

SOUTH PACIFIC 'HIJACKERS' ENGAGING GUNMEN

Southern California Liquor
Smugglers Spring Up
Armed To Teeth

SAN DIEGO, May 13.—
"Hijacking" of booze shoreward-bound in small boats
from "rum row" has sprung up in Southern California waters and the liquor smugglers were today signing up gunmen and arming their craft with high-powered rifles and sawed-off shotguns to draw off the pirates.

This was the information gleaned along the waterfront this morning, following reports that a rum-landing speedboat was held up near Los Angeles last night by a pirate boat and robbed of its cargo of fifty cases of Scotch, purchased a few hours earlier from a British rum steamer, forty miles out at sea, and a smaller shore boat "hijacked" of twenty-five cases near Point Loma, San Diego.

"Wherever rum-running has flourished, piracy has quickly developed," said Prohibition Agent Cass here today.

Atlantic Rum Row Fleet Reinforced

NEW YORK, May 13.—Rum
ships were reinforced today by two new ships—one a French steamer,
the other a German vessel,
which arrived late last week and then disappeared. Both ships were reported as carrying enough provisions for a month's siege before the blockading coast guard
"dry navy."

Captain Jacobs, commandant of the coast guard here, said a waiting game on the part of the bootlegship would be matched day
by day by the "dry" fleet's line of picket boats.

Coincident with the news of the reinforcements to the whiskey armada came reports that at least one cargo of liquor had slipped through the blockade
during Monday night's fog.

Coast guard officers at the Staten Island station admitted that a motorized dory had eluded patrol boats and landed a cargo of about fifty cases of liquor on the New Jersey shore, near Atlantic Highlands.

Reports of landings within the port of New York were denied by the coast guardmen.

Among the boats to join the blockade fleet was the new coast guard Sea Sled, said to be faster than any of the rum-runners. She carries only two men in her crew and looks like a toboggan sled.

NOTED AMERICAN WOMAN POET DIES

Amy Lowell, Exponent Of Verse, Is Stricken
Suddenly At Home

BROOKLINE, Mass., May 13.— Amy Lowell, foremost American woman poet and exponent of vers libre, who died suddenly in her home here yesterday, never had anything published until she was 28 years old, it was revealed here today. This despite the fact she had been writing and studying since she was a child of 8 years. Not until 1910 did her first book come out.

Miss Lowell, poet, critic and author, did practically all her writing at night. She never retired until between 5 and 8 o'clock in the morning. She slept until 1 p. m. and then began the work of answering her correspondence.
She died of cerebral hemorrhage.
She was a sister of President A.
Lawrence Lowell of Harvard, and Mrs. Lowell Putnam. She was 51 years old.

LONDON, May 13.—Several persons were injured and four warehouses destroyed when dynamite stored in the Ermezzine warehouses exploded, according to a dispatch from Lisbon.

EIGHT HURT IN BLAST

TOLEDO, O., May 13.—Eight persons were injured and the plant of the Toledo Alloy Casting Co. was wrecked here today when gas from the melting pots exploded.

U. S. Officials In Inspection Over Rum Row

NEW LONDON, Conn.,
May 13.—An official inspection tour of rum row was started today by the coast guard.

Commander Stephen Yandle, aide to Admiral F. C.
Billard, commandant, with a party of Washington newspapermen aboard the cutter Pequot, sailed for a three-day cruise to find out what really has happened to rum row.

Reports were received by coast guard headquarters
that the rum ships are shifting both to the north and south.

Commander Yandle will make an official report to Washington.

FILIPINO WRITER IS KILLED WITH AXE

Political Enemy Hunted As Assailant As Victim
Wrote In Club

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—
Police here today sought a political enemy believed to have been responsible for the slaying with an axe early today of A. C. Santa Ana, Filipino writer, as he sat composing an essay on civic affairs.

While seated at his typewriter
in a social club an unidentified assailant attacked Santa Ana from behind, inflicting injuries with an axe which resulted in the writer's death an hour later in the emergency hospital. No clew was left by the assailant.

PROBE STARTED IN DEATH OF AUTHOR

Wm. H. Knight Was Struck
By Auto, Lapsing Into Coma After Crash

LOS ANGELES, May 13.—A coroner's inquest will be held tomorrow to investigate the death of William H. Knight, 90, California author and lecturer, who died yesterday. He had been in a state of coma after being struck by an automobile, said by police to have been driven by Charles Kelly, a merchant.

Alfred Knight of New York, an official of the Plaisance, Yeast
Co., is a son of Knight and Mrs.
Tyrone Power, wife of the actor, a daughter.

PATENT TAKEN ON 'BALLOON TIRES'

First Protection Issued To Detroit Paves Way
For Royalty Suits

WASHINGTON, May 13.—The
first patent on "balloon tires" was issued by the patent office today
to Alden Putnam of Detroit, Mich.
Commerce department officials said that this action by the government paved the way for a number of anticipated suits over royalties on balloon tires.

FIVE PERSONS HURT

LOS ANGELES, May 13.—Five persons were injured here today
in a crash between an automobile driven by Otis Millsap, 18, and a street car. John Clapp, Charles Imel, Haskell Kyter and William Lindley, riding with Millsap, were all taken to hospitals.

Postal Office Asks Bids on Mail Planes

WASHINGTON, May 13.— Postmaster-General New
announced today that bids will be opened here on July 15
for furnishing whatever number of planes are needed
by the postoffice department for the air mail service.

The department has $2-600,000 available to equip
and operate the air mail, but it has not been decided how much of this will be expended for planes. The new planes will have a cruising radius of 450 miles and will be able to carry 1000 pounds
of mail.

MORAL EFFECT OF RUM WAR SPREADING

Treasury Reports States Are Joining To Drive On Liquor Traffic

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
For International News Service.
WASHINGTON, May 13.—The far-reaching moral effect of the government's attack on the "billion dollar" rum business was reflected today in reports to the treasury indicating new activities
not only on the part of the federal,
but by state and municipal law enforcement officers.

State governments which had let down on enforcement of local prohibition laws because of the apparently inexhaustible supply of liquor have declared war anew on the rum traffic, encouraged by the results obtained by the federal authorities, the prohibition unit declared.

New pledges of co-operation
were reported from several governors who said they were about to inaugurate special enforcement campaigns.

"The federal government is manifesting a much stronger determination to enforce laws
than at any time in the past,
both on land and sea," Wayne
B. Wheeler, chief counsel for the anti-saloon league, declared.

"The effective use of the padlock provisions of the law on land and the presence of the fleet on the seas, are the most heartening stimulants to prohibition advocates since the Volstead act went into effect."

No let-up in federal activities
on land or sea was in prospect,
according to treasury officials.

The coast guard is increasing its facilities on the great lakes
while a strong force of patrol boats is operating on the Pacific.
Both prohibition and coast guard forces have been concentrated near the Canadian and Mexican borders and government representatives are now negotiating with Mexican officials at El Paso, Texas, to form an anti-smuggling unit, similar to that negotiated with Canada a year ago.

Mrs. Day Will Contest Hubby's Divorce Suit

CHICAGO, May 13.—Mrs. Darby Day, Jr., sentenced to the penitentiary in California recently for having disfigured her husband
by throwing acid in his face,
will contest her husband's divorce
suit filed here, her counsel, George S. Pines, announced today.

TODAY'S GAMES

NEW YORK, May 13.—A long
single by Rube Bressler, Cincinnati first baseman, prevented Art Nehf, Giant pitcher, from attaining immortal heights in baseball annals this afternoon. Bressler made his hit in the second inning,
but thereafter the Giant pitcher was invincible. The Giants won, 3 to 0.

PHILADELPHIA, May 13.—
Gabby Harnett, catcher for the Chicago Cubs, hit out his ninth homer of the season in the sixth inning today. Carlson of the Phillies was on the mound.

Mrs. Shepherd Is Freed in Poison Plot

CHICAGO, May 13.—The grand jury this afternoon voted "no bills" in both charges against Mrs. Julie Shepherd—both the charge of guilty complicity in the alleged murder of her foster son, William Nelson Mc-Clintock and the boy's mother, Mrs. Emma Nelson McClintock. The charge against William D. Shepherd in the death of Mrs.
McClintock, was held open.
Shepherd will go to trial
next Monday on the charge of having killed young Mc-Clintock. Twenty-one witnesses were taken before the grand jury.

OUTLAWS HUNTED IN HILLSIDE HUTS

Tanko, Hall Believed Driven
To Shelter By Heavy Rains In Sierras

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—
Scores of cabins in the Iowa Hills section, near Colfax, were being searched today by United States postal inspectors and deputy sheriffs in the belief that Joe Tanko
and Floyd Hall, escaped San Quentin prison slayers, have been forced to seek shelter by the driving rain and intense cold of the past few days.

The storm continued in the foothill approaches to the Sierra Nevadas today and officers conducting the search for the fugitive killers believe it is only a question of time before the outlaws will be forced into the open.

Tanko and Hall are reported surrounded in the "Big Dipper"
mine, near Iowa hill, four miles east of Colfax, according to word received by Captain of Detectives
William Hallahan from Sheriff
Elmer Gull of Placer county. A posse of sheriff's deputies was rushed to the mine from Colfax.
"Big Dipper" mine is in the wildest section of the foothill country bordering the Sierra Nevada mountains.

SCREEN ACTRESS CHARGED IN SUIT

Wife of Art Acord, Picture Star, Names 'Other Girl'
As Louise Lorraine

LOS ANGELES, May 13.—Naming Louise Lorraine, screen actress, as co-respondent, Mrs. Edna Mae Acord today brought suit for divorce against Art Acord, motion picture star.

Mrs. Acord charges her husband with desertion, non-support, habitual intemperance and cruelty
and declared she believed Acord
was in company of Miss Lorraine
often in 1923 and 1924 and now passed most of his time with the actress at a house in Encino acres.

statement this afternoon.

ARREST 400 IN ALLEGED MEXICAN PLOT

NOGALES, Ariz., May 13.—Four hundred agrarians have been arrested at Mazatlan, Sinaloa, Mexico, in an attempt to overthrow the state government, according to word received here this afternoon. All of the men are held prisoners within the city by General Ferreria, state military commander.

AVIATOR INJURED AS SEAPLANE WRECKED

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Lieutenant Ralph Oistei
was injured today when a seaplane which he was piloting went into a tail-spin and crashed into the sea-wall near the army war college. The plane fell 4000 feet. Lieutenant-Commander Mitscher, who was riding in the plane, was uninjured.

CHARGES SECRET COMPACT MADE IN PEKING

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., May 13.—Japan and Russia have entered into a menacing secret compact by which they pledge mutual aid in men, planes and warships to accomplish supremacy of their influence in the far east over the United States, it was charged by W. B. Shearer, naval expert, here today, in a speech before the grand parlor, Native Sons of the Golden West. Shearer said the agreement is provided in alleged secret clauses in the Russo-Japanese treaty, signed at Peking, January, 1925.

SOUTHLAND IS VISITED BY DOWNPOUR

Glendale Receives .27 Inch
During Morning Hours; Pass Year's Mark

Glendale was visited with a heavy downpour of rain this morning and from present indications rain will continue falling this afternoon and tonight. The rainfall today as tabulated by H. E. Bartlett, observer, amounted to .27
inch, making a total of 10.09 inches to date this season. The rainfall at this date last year amounted to 8.75 inches, being 1.34 inches less than this year.
Mr. Bartlett states that the largest amount of rainfall recorded by him for May, was between May 5 and May 28, 1921, when 4.99 was recorded.

Heavy Rains General Throughout Southland

LOS ANGELES, May 13.—
Heavy rains fell today throughout Southern California. The rainfall was reported general in most of the southland. At Santa Barbara more than half an inch fell and in San Luis Obispo more than an inch was reported.

At noon a precipitation of .06
of an inch was reported here and in the surrounding country,
bringing the season's total to 7.11 inches, or .44 of an inch more than the total for last year.

Slight damage may be done to newly-cut hay, it was said, but the damage will be greatly outweighed by benefits of the storm, according to weather bureau officials, who said the rain was unusually heavy for May.

Report Crops Damaged On Ranches In Valley

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—
Intermittent rainfall over the entire state from Santa Barbara north was the weather prospect for California today and tonight.
The storm, which started last Saturday, and which was centered
near Eureka yesterday, had split
today, the minor portion being over the coast just north of San Francisco and the main body being over central California, where bureau officials here said.

Rainfall was plentiful over the storm area during the last twenty-four hours. Some records follow: Eureka, .42 of an inch; Red Bluff, .72; Sacramento, .70; San Francisco, 1 inch; San Jose, .30;
San Luis Obispo, 1.06; Chico, .42;
Colusa, .40; Merced, .80; Paso
Robles, .90; Santa Barbara, .56;
Santa Rosa, .23; Stockton, .64.
Reports of crop damage to fruit,
grain and hay continued to come in from the Sacramento, Sonoma
and Salinas valleys.

'REPUBLIC' IS FAVORED BY HINDENBURG

War Lord's Eulogy Of Ebert Called 'Bitter Pill'
For Nationalists

By S. D. WEYER
For International News Service
BERLIN, May 13.—A political paradox was presented to Germany today following the inauguration yesterday of former Field Marshal Paul Von Hindenburg as president of the German republic.
The Democratic newspapers,
which had bitterly attacked Hindenburg during the campaign, characterized him as an "ardent Republican," while, in contrast,
the Nationalist newspapers,
which supported Hindenburg's candidacy, concealed their disappointment at his inaugural speech
by refraining from editorial comment.

Accentuating the situation,
there floated over the presidential palace a new Republican banner of black, red and gold, bigger and more brilliant in its coloring than any flown there since the revolution.

Republic Emphasized

The Democratic press emphasized that Hindenburg, in his oath
and speech specifically mentioned the "republic," where, had he been swayed by monarchistic sentiment, he could just as easily have said "country" or "nation."
It was pointed out by political observers that Hindenburg's eulogy of the late President Ebert was a "bitter pill" for those of the Hindenburg following who still declare Ebert was a traitor, and who believed Hindenburg would be the antithesis of Ebert when he became president.

RUSSIANS BLAMED IN MONGOLIA WAR

Soviet Charged With Stirring Rebellion Flames In Northern Province

PEKING, May 13.—The Peking
foreign office today filed a protest with M. Karakhan, Russian ambassador to China, against alleged Soviet agitation in outer Mongolia where Russian agents were declared to be preaching rebellion against the Chinese central government. According to the protest, Moscow agents planned
the establishment of a "great Mongolian empire" in that vast Chinese province.

Open war between Mongolia
and China was reported when advances reaching here declared Mongolian troops were invading Chinese Turkestan.

NEGRO STUDENTS PROTEST DRILLING

Howard University Picketed
By Strikers Opposing Military Drill

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Police reserves were called out today to break up meetings of striking negro students on the campus of the government-operated Howard university. The students are striking in protest against compulsory military drill and have halted all classes by picketing the university buildings.

Every effort of the students,
both men and women, to get together in the vicinity of the university buildings was blocked by police, who ordered the strikers
away under penalty of arrest.

$300,000 Damage In Lumber Fire Blaze

Granville street bridge, False Creek industries and West End residential sections were for a time threatened by fire that destroyed the main lumber plant of Robertson & Hackett Saw Mills, Ltd., on Granville street, near the bridge, last night causing damage estimated at $300,000.

AUTO FATALITY

LOS ANGELES, May 13.—Earl Coutrais, 22, faced a manslaughter charge today following the death of Mrs. Amelia Jost, 81, from injuries received, according to police, when struck by a car driven by Coutrais.

Rules School Bonds Can Be Segregated

Just before The Glendale
Evening News went to press
this afternoon, Richardson D.
White, superintendent of city schools, announced that the elementary school bond election will be segregated into two issues as the result of an opinion given this afternoon
by County Counsel Edward Bishop, who today began drafting the necessary proceedings for officially calling the election to be held June 16.

One proposition on the ballot will provide for the purchase of four pieces of property to cost $173,000,
on which it is not planned to erect buildings immediately.
The other major proposition
will be for $1,064,000 for additions to present buildings,
erection of new structures,
equipment and purchase of property in cases where buildings are planned to be erected at once.

This ruling clears the situation outlined in the story on school bonds appearing elsewhere in today's paper.

INDICTMENTS ARE ASKED IN MERGER

District Attorney Keyes Will Act On Return From San Francisco

LOS ANGELES, May 13.—District Attorney Asa Keyes, who is in San Francisco investigating the alleged $6,000,000 "railway merger" in connection with which Thomas Hennessey and Harry Hibbs are held here, will return to Los Angeles tomorrow
and ask the grand jury to indict
the two accused "Wallingfords" if it was made known at Keyes' office today. Grand larceny by trick and device will be charged.

Process servers were busy today for thirty-five witnesses, many of them investors in the "merger,"
to summon them to appear tomorrow before the grand jury.

Investigators also visited several banks in beach cities hoping to uncover sums secreted in safety deposit boxes by the "brokers."

2250 GRADUATED AT CALIFORNIA U.

Governor, College Head And Major-General Preside
At Exercises

BERKELEY, Cal., May 13.—
Two thousand, two hundred and fifty students at the University of California were presented with degrees of graduation at the annual commencement services here
today. Governor Friend W. Richardson, Dr. W. W. Campbell, president of the university, and Major-General Henry D. Todd, Sr., U. S.
A., officiated at the exercises.

Adam Carl Bever, president of the Associated student body, and Kate Gosling, honor student in philosophy, of Monroe, La., were student speakers.

President's Address
Dr. Campbell, after an address in which he asserted that the graduates must carry into the world
the principles of high service to humanity and good citizenship as a return to the state for the privilege of education, presented diplomas to the graduates.

General Todd conferred commissions on thirty-two officers of the reserve corps and Governor Richardson commissioned thirty-three cadet officers.

The sixth coast artillery band
led the academic procession.
Exercises were held in the memorial stadium with an audience of 15,000.

United States Criticized by German Press

BERLIN, May 13.—The United States was taken to task today by the Berlin Tageblatt, Democratic newspaper, for its failure to congratulate President Hindenburg officially on the occasion of his inauguration yesterday.

"It was a deliberate insult which will force the German government on a similar occasion in the future to do likewise," the newspaper said.

INDEPENDENT PRODUCERS IN BATTLE ON TRUST

Action Taken At Meeting Of Theatre Owners Against Alleged Monopoly

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 13.—The names of General
John J. Pershing and Secretary of Commerce Hoover were placed alongside that of Charles Evans Hughes, former secretary of state, here today
as the possible heads of the "reformed" motion picture industry of the country—a position similar to that held by Will Hays.

Possibilities that one of these three would be selected loomed as the delegates to the sixth annual convention of the picture theatre owners of America went into their second day's session
here.

No definite action regarding the man to head their organization had been taken at the various secret sessions today, however,
and there was reported to be some feeling that the position should be offered to some man from their own midst rather than to following the footsteps of the "big three" and name a nationally known figure.

Rumors Flying

The air around the hotel where the sessions are being held was rife with rumors today. One had it that such nationally known stars as Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, Charlie Chaplin, and the Talmadges had decided to "go along" with the independents, although there was nothing on the face to substantiate such a belief, with the possible exception of the fact that Hiram Abrahams, head of the United Artists, with which these stars are aligned, is here.

The independents, however, had made admitted progress in valuing upon exhibitors to delay making their contracts for the coming season pending a proposed alignment with the "rebels."

War was declared by the independents at the opening session yesterday when they openly came out in opposition to the First National, Metro-Goldwyn and the Famous Players, which constitute the big three. The war chest to fight these three today had grown to $500,000, half of which was pledged by the independent producers and the other half by the revolving exhibitors. The money, it was said, will be used in a nation-wide advertising campaign
in which the rebels will set forth their claims

SAN FERNANDO JAPS SEEKING ROAD URGED CONCRETE 'DRY' TREATY WITH U. S.

Property Owners Unanimous
For Eight-Inch Bed
When Work Begins

A petition seeking an eight-inch unsurfaced concrete paving for San Fernando road from south Glendale to the Burbank city limits, was put into circulation today following a joint meeting of the South Glendale Business Men's association and the San Fernando Boulevard Improvement association last night.

At the meeting a group of heavy property owners along San Fernando road voted unanimously for eight inch concrete for the new street, opposing any type of patent paving or black top finish. The new petition, it is believed, if it gains sufficient signatures will void a petition now in the hands of the City Council, asking that national paving be used in the construction of the new road.

Advocates of a solid concrete street advanced their arguments with but small opposition at the meeting last night, held at 1526 South San Fernando road. Lloyd H. Wilson presided. Persons attending the meeting represented the bulk of the heavy property owners affected by the proposed San Fernando road improvement, it was declared by speakers. They urged a decision in favor of a straight concrete street. George B. Karr advanced a motion calling for eight-inch concrete paving. The motion was carried unanimously.

Water Precautions
The property owners also went on record advocating that all water and service pipes be installed before the paving is laid and that the street be paved in two sections, keeping the thoroughfare open to traffic at all times.

Today a committee, including Dan Campbell, George B. Karr, Max F. Bayha, Joe Baudino, Arthur Cravens, William Griffen, R. S. Zimmerman, R. E. Johnston, F. C. Hewitzer, L. H. Wilson, C. B. Detweiler, Ed. P. Hiesler, S. C. Hahn, John R. Grey, Arthur Campbell, George Bentley and R. A. Treadwell, started the circulation of petitions for the concrete paving. The petition will be presented to the City Council at an early session, Mr. Wilson said.

NURMI HIT AGAIN BY DRAKE CHARGE

Athletic Director Accuses A. A. U. Secretary Of
'Whitewashing'

DES MOINES, Iowa, May 13.—K. L. Wilson, athletic director of Drake university, who recently charged Paavo Nurmi, Willie Ritola, famous Finnish runners, and their interpreter-manager, Hugo Quist, with attempting to collect exorbitant expense money for their appearance at the 1925 Drake relays, today fired another broadside at the trio and at F. W. Rubien, secretary-treasurer of the Amateur Athletic union.

Wilson reiterated his charges against Nurmi, Ritola and Quist, and accused Rubien with attempting to "whitewash" the runners and their manager.

"Rubien should be interested in making an honest and impartial investigation of the charges, rather than trying to whitewash the defendants and belittle one who insists on conducting amateur athletics on the square," Wilson declared.

Pact Would Permit Orientals
To Carry Liquors Inside
Territorial Waters

TOKIO, May 13.—Japan is negotiating a liquor treaty with the United States, it was learned here today at the foreign office. The treaty was declared to be similar to existing liquor treaties already in force between the United States and England and other countries.

It was understood the Japanese-American treaty was to allow Japanese ships to carry liquor inside territorial waters of the United States under specific regulatory conditions.

In exchange Japan would grant the United States the right to search Japanese vessels for contraband liquor outside American territorial waters.

Details of the treaty have not been worked out, it was said, but foreign office officials declared they were favorable to such an agreement between their country and the United States.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—France has again been informed, diplomatically but pointedly, that the United States is desirous of some concrete overtures in the direction of funding her war debt of more than $4,000,000,000. The state department broke its policy of silence on the debt matter sufficiently to admit that "informal conversations" were in progress in Paris between Ambassador Herrick and French officials, but would neither confirm nor affirm that the ambassador had been instructed from Washington to make "strong representations" to the Poincaré-Caulleux ministry. No formal note was presented to the French government.

Ambassador Herrick's representations followed closely on the heels of similar representations by Garrard B. Winston, under secretary of the treasury, who has returned to Washington after a survey of the European debt situation.

Reviewed Activity
This renewed activity in regard to the debt can be taken, it was said today, as an indication that the Coolidge government is determined to delay no longer in pressing not only the French debt but all other unfunded war obligations, to some sort of settlement before Congress convenes again in December.

These unfunded obligations outstanding on the treasury's books total in excess of $7,000,000,000, an amount equal to one third the national debt.

To get this huge amount on an interest bearing basis would be no inconsiderable factor in the administration's plans for further tax reduction.

NATION'S TRADE SHOWS INCREASE

International Commerce For Past Three Months In Noticeable Jump

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
For International News Service.
WASHINGTON, May 13.—A notable improvement of international trade featured the world's business during the first three months of 1923, the Federal Reserve board has announced. Many economic factors contributed to increase purchasing power of industrial Europe and agricultural communities in all parts of the world, which in turn stimulated trade of virtually every nation, according to the board's general survey.

Exports of Great Britain, Germany and other industrial nations of Europe, are on the upgrade. "The remarkable improvement in German trade is the result of the betterment in the country's international relations, stabilization of currency and the large foreign loans and credits made available to the German government and industry," the statement read.

Raw Material Jumps
The rise in the price of several raw materials and especially of cereals, has increased the purchasing power of areas which in previous years had been suffering from depression.

Compared to the first three months of 1924, British imports rose to 352,000,000 pounds sterling, a gain of 16 per cent, while exports jumped eight per cent to 299,000,000 pounds.

French ports, according to the board, remained virtually the same as in 1924, but imports were lower, giving a more favorable trade balance. Both exports and imports of Germany were doubled for the first two months of the year over the same period of 1924, no later figures being available.

SPURIOUS CURRENCY
Spurious Canadian bank notes, with an estimated face value of $300,000, which have been circulating in London, were made in Persia.

QUESTION WHETHER SCHOOL BONDS CAN BE SPLIT!

WORK OF AUXILIARY TOPIC AT LUNCHEON

Juvenile Protective League President
Among Honored Guests of Tuesday Afternoon Club Members

"Organized for cleaner, purer and sweeter American womanhood" was the noble purpose of the Juvenile Protective league, sponsored by the Tuesday Afternoon club, voiced by Margaret Allowelt, league president, at the club luncheon yesterday, when junior auxiliary work was stressed in the luncheon program, and predictions made that ere many years elapse the Tuesday Afternoon club will have a junior unit grounded and functioning on the slogan given by Miss Allowelt.

Presiding with Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, club president, as assisting hostess was Mrs. George Franklin Orgibet, whose enthusiasm in junior auxiliary activity has made her an ideal chairman for the Juvenile Protective league, the nucleus of a local junior auxiliary that is inevitable in club development.

Honored guests and speakers at the luncheon were Mrs. Thomas A. Gould, past president of the Women's club of Redondo Beach, and widely known as "mother" of junior auxiliaries in the South Bay district; Miss Catherine Howard, president of the Redondo auxiliary, recognized as a model organization; Miss Elizabeth Ward, past president of the junior auxiliary of Los Angeles Ebell club; Miss Paxton of Los Angeles Ebell club; Mrs. O. H. Belew of Glendale, a member of Los Angeles Ebell club; Mrs. R. W. Meeker of Glendale, district chairman of the Memorial Redwood fund. Other speakers were Mrs. George U. Moyle, dean of girls at Glendale Union High school, and Miss Margaret Allowelt.

Girls Are Guests
Girls of the Juvenile Protective league who were luncheon guests of Mrs. Montgomery were Margaret Allowelt, who, on behalf of the girls, presented Mrs. Montgomery with a basket of flowers; Estella Roberts, Virginia Oaks, Marion Letts, Vera Wilson, Margaret Jernegan, Marie Church, Eleanor Deckard, Alice Castill, Fannie Rodgers, Helen Hibbs, Helen Heare, Lois Strother, Florence McCoubrey, Grace Scherer, Rosine Sturmy.

"The junior auxiliary creates a better understanding between the women of today and the women of tomorrow," said Mrs. Gould, who outlined the social advantages of the junior unit in club life. She also told of the philanthropic interests for the young people. She characterized the auxiliary movement as "a 100 per cent effort" for any club. Her talk was enlarged upon by Miss Howard, who spoke from the viewpoint of the young women.

Miss Ward stated that the junior auxiliary reaches three classes of young women: The non-college group, offering them educational advantages; the college group, providing them interest in their home city, and the young matrons, giving them cultural opportunities. She stated that last year California led all states in auxiliary activity, Los Angeles district having forty auxiliaries.

Mrs. Moyle, who was introduced by Mrs. Montgomery, stated that the presence of the high school girls at the luncheon was one of the happiest events in her club experience. She spoke of the unlimited field for service the club could find in a junior auxiliary.

Mrs. A. M. Draper, with Mrs. Walter Kirby at the piano, led club singing. Later, Mrs. Draper sang "Mother Machree."

Events of the club meeting in the afternoon were announcements by Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, chairman of the nominating committee, on the annual election, by Mrs. C. W. Houston, general curator; presentation of a resolution by Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson; reports by Mrs. C. G. Putnam, chairman of year book; Mrs. W. F. Macpherson, conservation; Mrs. Ernest A. Carr, emblems; Dr. Margaret M. Fork, health; Mrs. G. H. Rowe,

LOCAL AUTHOR SUES MOVIE PRODUCER

Harvey Westgate, Verdugo Woodlands, Claims Story Of 'Manslaughter'

Charging the Famous Players-Lasky corporation and others with conspiracy in connection with the story, "Manslaughter," which he claims is a product of his, Harvey E. Westgate, 1500 Opechee Way, Verdugo Woodlands, an author, seeks $85,000 damages in a suit filed in Superior court in Los Angeles yesterday. Mr. Westgate declares his story, written under the title of "The New Justice," was submitted to the corporation for the purpose of examination.

The story was delivered to the corporation in January, 1920, through William De Mille, Mr. Westgate claims in his bill of particulars. The manuscript was sent to the New York office, he states, and was returned to him on February 24, 1920, marked "rejected."

Defendants Named
The story appeared in a weekly magazine in 1921 under the title of "Manslaughter," and Mr. Westgate states he believes the defendants conspired to deprive him of his rights and ownership in the story and converted to their own use his theme, plot and story.

Among the persons named as defendants in the suit are William De Mille, Cecil B. De Mille, Mary H. O'Connor, Alice Duer Miller, writer, and others. He asks $25,000 damages for the plot and story, $10,000 for loss of credit as an author, and $50,000 exemplary damages.

Mr. Westgate has contributed a number of poems and articles to The Glendale Evening News, many of his poems having appeared on the editorial page of this paper.

Dr. Margaret York of 1005 North Central avenue, will leave Sunday for Yosemite valley, to preside over the convention May 18, 19 and 20 of the California Medical association of which she is president.

CONTRACT FOR NEW ROAD AWARDED

Proposed Highway Connects Chevy Chase Drive And Neighboring Cities

Construction work on four miles of concrete highway to connect Chevy Chase drive with outlets in Pasadena and Flintridge, will start in the near future, following the action of the County Board of Supervisors yesterday in awarding a contract for the work to Clarence P. Day of Pasadena. The contract price was announced as $105,000, and the road is to be completed by September.

When the new road is completed, it will form a connecting link between Glendale, Pasadena and Flintridge, traversing the Chevy Chase estate, with thousands of oaks and sycamore trees lining the portion of the boulevard through the estate and adjacent territory. It is planned to ultimately have Chevy Chase drive extend from Griffith park to Pasadena.

Chevy Chase drive, at the present time, has been completed through Glendale to the subdivision recently opened by Bert Farar. A portion of the drive was formerly known as Sycamore Canyon road, but the name was changed to Chevy Chase drive by action of the City Council of Glendale.

Provision for the portion of the new boulevard in Pasadena was provided by a bond issue of $550,000 recently voted by the residents of the Linda Vista and Washington street sections of the neighboring city.

Mrs. Brand Presented With Engraved Token

Bearing a hand-lettered resolution within an art border depicting the wide Spanish columns of "Miradero," photographs of the former City Council and their signatures, a token of appreciation for the gift of Brand park to Glendale, was presented today to Mrs. Mary Louise Brand on behalf of the city by City Manager V. B. Stone.

A resolution was adopted February 14, but the work has but recently been completed. The park was given the city by Leslie C. Brand before his death several weeks ago. Bearing the gold seal of the city, the resolution follows:

"Whereas, on this 14th day of February, 1925, the council of the city of Glendale has tendered and has accepted in the name of the people of the city of Glendale a deed to approximately 800 acres of land as a gift from L. C. Brand and Mary Louise Brand, his wife, to be forever known as Brand park, and to be used for public park purposes

"Whereas, the people of the city of Glendale have repeatedly sought to find ways and means of acquiring a municipal park and the problem seemed to be too difficult to be accomplished and this gift has for all time solved this great problem; therefore be it

RESOLVED, that the council of the city of Glendale in the name of the people does hereby express to these good citizens public appreciation and thanks for this great gift and certify to the high esteem and love in which they are held by the people of the city of Glendale."

New Director

E. M. DAVIDS, appointed to Chamber of Commerce board to succeed George J. Lyons.

E. M. Davids, new director of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, appointed by unanimous decision of the board a week ago to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of George J. Lyons, took his seat on the directorate for the first time yesterday afternoon.

Director Davids is treasurer of the Gladding-McBean Co., owners of the Tropic Pottery. Glendale's largest industry. He has been connected with that concern for seventeen years. During all that time he has been actively identified with the commercial and industrial growth of Glendale.

Mr. Davids was appointed to the board as a representative of Glendale's rapidly growing industrial belt. At the meeting yesterday he was introduced by President D. H. Smith.

"I am delighted with the honor bestowed upon me in naming me to this board," Mr. Davids said. "I will exert every effort to not only do my best for Glendale and its Chamber of Commerce but to attend these board meetings regularly."

Board To Name Park Directors For Season

Seven playground directors to serve during the summer season at Glendale school parks will be appointed from a list of twelve applicants next Wednesday morning by the Glendale park board, following consideration of the applicants by the board at its meeting today.

Parks to be maintained during the summer, beginning July 1, include Acacia street school, Harvard street, Broadway, Doran street, Central avenue, Grand View and Columbus street school. The matter of holding regular band concerts, probably at the Patterson street park, during the summer months, was referred to the City Council without recommendation.

SEEK LEGAL OPINION ON SEPARATE ISSUES

Board of Education and Committee of Fifteen Agree Election Will Be Called for Tuesday, June 16

Calling of an election to vote on $1,237,000 in bonds for elementary and intermediate school purposes was formally authorized at a joint session of the Board of Education and a committee of fifteen, recently appointed by the board, held last night at the board offices, when discussion of the proposed bond issue was largely interspersed with caustic comment on "the type of opponents" expected to be arrayed against the issue.

Some members of the committee expressed their belief that "the board gave the other side fuel for talk" when real estate men were appointed on the committee. And thereby they started something.

Two members of the committee who are real estate men took exception when William Baker declared that opponents of the proposed issue will intimate "wrong things," despite the fact that "the honesty, integrity and square dealing" of the men on the committee is generally acknowledged.

Protest Criticism
"I apologize to no person for my profession, nor for the manner in which I conduct my business," declared M. Walters of Sparr Heights. "I can't see why they shouldn't raise the same question, if it is to be raised at all, because lawyers and doctors and men of other professions are included on the committee."

L. H. Wilson, the other real estate man present, said he did not see any reason for criticism in the fact that real estate men were named to the committee. Walters asked to be relieved of a committee appointment later after Mrs. A. A. Barton, president of the Board of Education, had suggested that "it might be well not to name Walters as chairman of the publicity committee" because of the possible effect it might have and the probable manner in which the appointment might be commented upon by opposition interests.

Name Committee
Mrs. Arthur C. Brown, a member of the board, came to the defense of Walters and earnestly declared she "could not see why a man of his type and experience should not be in charge of the publicity during the campaign."

After considerable discussion Walters was named the fourth member of the publicity and speakers' committee with W. E. Hewitt as chairman; H. V. Adams and Bert Woodard.

The election will be called for June 16, to be held in conjunction with the $150,000 memorial hall bond election. A committee composed of William Baker and H. V. Adams was appointed by Chairman Alex Mitchell to go to Los Angeles today with Superintendent of Schools R. D. White to confer with County Counsel Edward Bishop against the legality of "splitting" the issues.

CLOTHING PRICES SEEN ON DECLINE

Buyers Waiting Adjustment Of Unsettled Conditions With Wool Growers

By J. C. ROYLE
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.
NEW YORK, May 13.—Wool growers and ultimate consumers of clothing are wondering at present just what conditions are necessary to bring satisfaction to the manufacturers of woolen cloth. Word has been received from New England that mill owners there felt they have sustained another blow owing to the drop in raw wool prices, which have fallen from 13 to 20 per cent on various grades since the first of the year. Last fall, the manufacturers complained of the high prices of raw wool, which they declared made mill operations, at a profit, impossible.

Mill managers say that, while the reduction in the cost of raw material is a factor tending to reduce cost of production for the time being, it is a tremendously disturbing element in the business situation. They say a smash in the price level upsets the current in trade and retail stores as well and causes losses and havoc. To all of which growers dissent vigorously.

Substantial Decline
There is no doubt of the substantial decline which raw wools have suffered. Fine and medium staple domestic wools, which last December sold at $1.70 a pound, now may be had at $1.25. Ohio fleece wools which commanded 72 cents a pound in the grease have fallen to 48 to 50 cents and territory quarter bloods which were $1.20 clean in December, now are offered at 85 to 90 cents.

Some of the Australian auctions have been called off because of the trend indicated and other world markets have recorded similar price movements. The London auctions now in progress have been materially curtailed. New England mills have been running close to the wind, according to all reports. The spring demand was slack and the opening of the lines of goods for next fall has been followed by a most unsatisfactory volume of orders. The mills have been buying sparingly in the open market for months but just how their inventories are is not known.

Worsted Mills
Worsted mills are operating on a part time basis. Few are working at over 70 per cent of normal capacity and some are closed entirely. There has been a vigorous attempt to hold goods prices up and to some extent this has been successful. Some experts say that this is perhaps the worst thing which could have happened to the industry. As it is, the trade is full of reports of inside prices and secret concessions.

Buying of clothing for some years has been anything but satisfactory. The clearest heads in the industry attribute this directly to the high prices for clothing which have existed. The general average of cloth prices today is about 136 per cent higher than in the middle of 1914. This represents a much higher level than other commodities. The majority of buyers have expressed their opinion that these prices were much too high by reducing their purchases. Few believe, therefore, that consumption of woolen and worsted goods will show radical improvement until prices have dropped sufficiently to stimulate demand.

Raw Wool Drops
While it is true that raw wool prices have fallen approximately 15 per cent since January 1, there is little likelihood that prices for finished cloth will show similar reductions until the spring lines of 1926 are offered. This is due to the fact that for once, the wool growers outguessed the manufacturers. Many makers of cloths jumped into the market last fall and contracted for the still un-grown clips of the flock master at extremely high prices. Certainly more than 60 per cent of the wool produced was sold in this manner before it was clipped. While the market levels now are lower, manufacturers nevertheless have to take these high-priced wools and use them. If they buy cheap wools to average out the price, they are under necessity of tying up large sums in inventories at a time when goods are moving slowly.

Clothing Prices
Goods prices and clothing prices seem headed toward levels where demand will make itself felt. The inhabitants of this country are more numerous than ever before. They are better dressed than any other people in the world. They certainly are going to buy clothing and buy it in larger quantities when they feel the price is right. Readjustment to that end undoubtedly will take place. That is the silver lining to the woolen manufacturers' cloud.

FAMOUS 'LIFER' IN PRISON 50 YEARS

Jesse Pomeroy Entered Gate Of Jail at Age of 17, Now Grizzled at 67

By ROBERT T. SMALL
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.
BOSTON, May 13.—The doors of a jail in London have opened behind him fifty years ago when he was a stripling of seventeen. Today he is a grizzled old man of sixty-seven, but he still is fighting, fighting, fighting in the hope that some day he will get out to see the modern world about which he has read so much. He wants to see a trolley car, to ride in an automobile, to fly over the mountain tops in an airplane. Jesse Pomeroy, the most famous "lifer" in all America, has written a really graphic poem on the flying machine.

Although twenty years of his time has been spent in solitary confinement, Pomeroy does not feel that the world has passed him by. His story was done years ago, when he was young and rebellious and fought and broke all the prison rules. For the last two decades Jesse has been what they always call the model prisoner.

That is why he has just entered suit for libel against a Boston woman, who wrote a letter to a newspaper claiming that Pomeroy had skinned alive a kitten placed in his cell. Pomeroy feels that this is a gross insult to the public against him again and ruined his chances for parole or pardon perhaps for years to come. And so he says he has been damaged $5000 worth. And he believes the suit will stick in the courts, although it is difficult to assess the degree of damage to a man sentenced to spend the remainder of his earthly days behind the bars.

Fifty Years in Jail
Pomeroy's half century of confinement has been spent under the very shadow of Bunker Hill, within a stone's throw of the spot where Paul Revere waited for the signal from the lanterns in the old North church on the Boston side of the Charles river, and started his historic journey across the sea. Pomeroy has just suffered another setback—the refusal of Governor Fuller to consider him for a pardon.

When Pomeroy was fourteen it was charged he had murdered a four-year old boy, found with his throat cut and fifteen stab wounds in his body. Three years later Pomeroy was convicted and sentenced to be hanged. The then governor of the state commuted the sentence to life imprisonment "because of accused youth." The boy had been represented by able counsel at his trial and there was much expert testimony but as usual the experts disagreed and the jury of those days, lacking perhaps the sentimentality of later years, gave a verdict concerning the crime of a more modern times, threw out the experts, neck and crop, and convicted the boy with no thought of mercy or compassion in their hearts.

'Fiend Incarnate'
The "boy fiend," the "fiend incarnate," as he was called at the time, entered the state prison September 9, 1876. And he has been there since. Perhaps if his suit for libel is permitted to stand in the courts he may get out to attend the trial. Perhaps that chance rather than the need for $5000 damages has prompted him in the suit. There is further explanation of the libel action in the fact that Pomeroy has come to consider himself an able lawyer. He has read and studied law for years giving special attention, of course, to murder trials. Not many years ago he prepared what was pronounced a very able brief on his case and tried to get permission to argue it before the supreme judicial court of Massachusetts. He was denied the request, as he has been denied every request looking to his liberty.

Pomeroy has studied languages and is proficient in at least four. Perhaps he hopes to do a little world travel before his days are ended. He also studied chemistry and is well read in history. His turn for poetry is not at all bad and he is one of the most valued contributors to the prison magazine.

Omnivorous Reader
Prison fare and prison days—even the twenty years in "solitary" have not broken Jesse Pomeroy. He is in good physical condition for a man of his age. He is an omnivorous reader and in that way feels that he has kept up with the progress of the world—has kept step better, he believes, than the unobservant and the illiterate among the free men who see but do not understand. Modern inventions interest Pomeroy hugely. The picture papers and magazines are his hobby. He believes he could step out into the world tomorrow and probably never get a thrill, for he has visualized all that is taking place and his imagination has carried him far afield. The old prisoner is described today as a "good religious man," but no warden as yet ever recommended his release. He is popular in the prison, however, and does his work well.

Pomeroy says a book is a man's best companion and of these he has in plenty. There is little else left in the world for him.

School Bond Issue Is Subject to Discussion

recent fire at the Doran Street school.

Campaign Committee
Following acceptance of the report, the board asked the committee of fifteen to continue to function as a campaign committee, to be in full charge of the election. The committee agreed to continue, and to make each member a chairman of a sub-committee in each section of the city to aid in the campaign.

In an effort to enlist the active support of the Glendale Realty board, a committee composed of L. H. Wilson, L. H. Myers and Walters was appointed by Chairman Mitchell to appear before the board.

Mitchell also appointed a finance committee composed of Herman Nelson, chairman; Peter Perry and Paul E. Stillman.

To enlist the aid of parent-teacher associations throughout the city, a meeting of the committee with presidents of the various P. T. A. chapters was called for next Tuesday night, to be held in the auditorium of the Wilson Avenue school.

Declaring that much of the opposition to the proposed bond issue comes from "a section where a site for a school has already been obtained," Walters declared that other parts of the city also were entitled to adequate school facilities.

"When they say that I will be benefited, and that Sparr Heights will be benefited by the purchase of a site and the construction of a school, I say yes," he continued. "We will be benefited just as much as the other parts of the city have been helped."

"We are entitled to schools. And what is more, the district just north of Sparr Heights now wants to annex itself to Glendale, in addition to twelve square miles that has already called for an annexation election. But those people will not enter the city until they are assured they can have proper school facilities. Then they will vote to annex."

Object to Story
Some members of the committee of fifteen took exception to a story printed in The Glendale Evening News yesterday in which details of a meeting of the Glendale Municipal league, at which the proposed bond issue and the committee was discussed, was reported as a matter of news.

"The story was unfair and not properly set forth," said Bert P. Woodard.

Alex Mitchell declared that "the story should not have been printed as it was written because of the fact that it did not truly represent the spirit of the meeting."

"This committee was not 'hand picked,' but it represents a very good cross-section of the city as a whole. The proposed bond issue isn't a 'real estate promotion' as was charged. I don't think the story as handled by The News was fair," said Mitchell.

Other members added their protests, asking for "fair treatment" at the hands of the newspapers.

Harold J. Lewis Takes Management Of Store

Harold J. Lewis, vice-president of the Lewis Jewelry Co., Inc., has taken over the active management of the Glendale store, located at 133 North Brand boulevard. Mr. Lewis has taken residence at 939 East Glenoaks boulevard, Glendale.

This concern has been established for the past thirty-five years and has branches at San Pedro, Huntington Park, two stores at Long Beach and the one at 133 North Brand, Glendale. An unusually large stock of high-grade jewelry is carried by the concern. "We sell on credit and actually meet the prices of the cash stores," Mr. Lewis said. This is made possible by the large buying power of the Lewis organization, it is pointed out.

Not more than 2 per cent of the concerts in London are now paying expenses because of the rivalry from moving pictures, dancing and wireless.

ORDER WATCH ON SCHOOL PROPERTY

Belief That Firebug Caused Blaze On Doran Street Leads To Edict

Fear that there is a 'fire-bug' in Glendale with a mania for destroying schools, as a result of investigations into the origin of the Doran street school blaze several days ago, has led fire and police department officials and school authorities to take extra precautions to guard school property throughout the city.

The theory that the Doran street school fire that caused a loss of approximately $12,000, mostly covered by insurance, was due to carelessness by young people who were believed to have broken into the large central hallway has been practically discarded, it was learned today. Officials for a time believed that a cigarette or match thrown carelessly to one side might have started the blaze.

An extended probe, however, has shown that there was no waste material or anything of an inflammable nature in the central hallway where the fire started. The only loose object was a ladder that had been leaned against a wall. The floor of the hallway was of cement and the walls of featherboarding, almost impossible to set alight with either a match or cigarette.

Order Close Watch
Investigating officers today branded the burning of the school building as "deliberate arson," and because the probe has disclosed no motive for any person setting it alight they fear that some one with a maniacal passion for burning schools will make further attempts in Glendale.

Numerous instances have been recorded throughout the country where a series of school or church fires have been traced to one man, generally partially demented. Local officials, who admitted today they have no clues on which to base their belief, declared that despite that fact they will take no chances and will give no opportunities to a maniac to do further harm.

Watchmen and janitors have been instructed by the Board of Education to keep special watch for suspicious persons, while patrolmen on beats near school buildings have been ordered by Chief of Police John D. Fraser to continue their investigation in an effort to uncover trace of the person who is responsible for the Doran street fire.

George Lafferty Held For Superior Court

George Lafferty was bound over to superior court on a charge of burglary today by Police Judge F. H. Lowe and bail was fixed at $5000. Lafferty, who is said to have confessed to local police that he is an ex-convict, was captured after he had fled from a house he is alleged to have attempted to burglarize.

L. L. Walton, Long Beach youth, arrested here several weeks ago on a charge of issuing fictitious checks, was bound over to superior court and bail was fixed at $1500.

L. H. Kennedy, charged with grand larceny, was released by Judge Lowe when he could not be identified as the man who obtained a rental automobile from a local agency and failed to return it.

EQUIPMENT TRADE

CHICAGO, May 13.—The extraordinary demand for telephone equipment has dropped to more normal levels, according to officials of the Western Electric Co. To this they attribute the falling off in sales for the first quarter to $71,253,000, as compared with $80,591,000 in 1924.

RICE MILL SOLD

NEW IBERIA, La., May 13.—The Carster Leche Rice Mill has just been bought by Robert E. Pughamon of Abbeville. The mill, which has been idle for a year, will be overhauled and put into commission at once.

My Hair Was Quite Gray
"My hair was gray. It was falling out. My scalp itched and dandruff appeared. A few applications of Kolor-Bak stopped the itching and dandruff. My hair soon stopped falling out and now is again its original shade. I look ten years younger."

Don't Worry about Gray Hair

This Clean, Colorless Liquid Will Restore the Original Shade

Thousands of people have quickly banished grayness and have restored the original shade to their hair with the remarkable preparation known as Kolor-Bak.

Physicians and scientists know that gray hair is hair that has ceased to receive its normal supply of coloring matter or pigment from certain tiny cells in the scalp because these cells have become inactive. No matter what the cause, it is amazing to see how the grayness disappears when Kolor-Bak is used. It is the best known substitute for the natural pigmentation. It also banishes dandruff and stops itching of the scalp and falling hair. If you are gray, Kolor-Bak is all you need to make your hair look "young" again. No need to furnish a sample of your hair—no

Ray Fairall Named As Fire, Flood Chairman

Ray Fairall, foreman in the street department of the city of Glendale, was appointed chairman of the fire and flood control committee of the Chamber of Commerce late yesterday to replace Percy J. Hayselden, resigned. Mr. Fairall has during the past several years assisted Mr. Hayselden in his duties as fire and flood control chairman of the chamber. He was appointed by President D. H. Smith upon the recommendation of Mayor Harry G. MacBain.

Mayor MacBain explained that Mr. Fairall had at his disposal to use in the time of fire or flood all equipment of the city street department and a large number of city employees. His appointment was confirmed by a vote of the board of directors of the chamber. Mr. Hayselden resigned as fire and flood control chairman a week ago, pleading the press of business. Mr. Fairall also becomes the representative of Glendale on the civilian advisory board of the Angeles Forest Protective association by virtue of the appointment.

FROST DAMAGES

TOPEKA, Kan., May 13.—Orchards and garden crops have been injured to some extent throughout Kansas by frosts.

Cigar Costing 10 Cents Favored by Coolidge

NEW YORK, May 13.—President Coolidge smokes 10 cent cigars and he doesn't care for the higher priced brands. This was revealed by Charles D. Hillis, president of the Ohio society. Mr. Hillis, a friend of the president, visited Mr. Coolidge at the White House, Hillis said, and found him enjoying a 10 cent cigar. A day or two later, Hillis sent the president a box of expensive cigars.

When Hillis visited the president again, he found him smoking the same 10 cent brand. The president explained he was very much like Jim Jackson of Northampton, who paid 50 cents to attend an ice cream social—everything free. Jackson didn't eat his large plate of strawberry ice cream, explaining: "If I did I'm afraid it would spoil my taste for prunes."

Mr. Coolidge doesn't want to destroy his taste for 10 cent cigars.

PLANTING POTATOES

DETROIT, Mich., May 13.—Michigan is planting an increased acreage of early potatoes this spring, due to the early arrival of warm weather.

Chamber to Give $350 To Drive For Bridge

The Glendale Chamber voted to subscribe $350 to an advertising campaign fund to be used to assure the passage of the $500,000 Glendale boulevard-Fletcher drive bridge bond issue at the time of the June election in Los Angeles. The money was voted by the board of directors of the chamber at a meeting yesterday after Secretary Howard I. Wood had reported on plans for the publicity campaign in favor of the bonds. The campaign will be handled by the Los Angeles Traffic commission, this body subscribing $1,000 to the fund. Other cities that will be benefited by the proposed bridges will also contribute to the fund.

AUTO PRODUCTION

DETROIT, May 13.—The Reo Motor Co. is working overtime in a majority of its departments. April set a new sales record exceeding the old high mark by fifteen per cent. The Olds Co. is making 225 cars daily and expects to increase this rate.

EMPLOYMENT GIVEN

DETROIT, May 13.—Industrial employment here has increased to a new high for the year at $233,542 a gain of 41,208 since January 1.

URGES DEVELOPMENT OF TEXTILE INDUSTRY

R. W. Pridham, President of Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, Sees Future For San Fernando Valley

Picturing the San Fernando valley as one of the most logical industrial locations in the southwest, R. W. Pridham, president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, and pioneer Angeleno, urged the development of the textile industry here, through the cooperation of the Los Angeles chamber and civic organizations of the valley.

Mr. Pridham, at one time county supervisor from this district, spoke before the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the San Fernando valley at their monthly meeting at the Egyptian Village cafe last night.

"The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce is making a strong bid for textile plants, and the logical location for these plants, if they can be brought to Southern California, is the industrial belt of the San Fernando valley," he said. "At the present time the Los Angeles chamber has experts in the east trying to induce a number of large textile manufacturing concerns to locate here. The Los Angeles chamber is willing and happy to work to bring these plants to Glendale and the San Fernando valley where we believe they rightfully belong and can best be accommodated."

Location Best

The location of the valley, situated on the main coast railway lines, great north and south highways and amidst one of the state's biggest producing areas, assures an industrial future for the San Fernando, Mr. Pridham declared.

Mr. Pridham, the principal speaker at the meeting, attended by approximately 100 representatives of seventeen valley cities, and their wives, traced the growth of the valley. He attributed its rapid advance in great part to the co-ordinated civic efforts of Chambers of Commerce through the Associated Chambers organization.

Mr. Pridham struck a warning note to people of the upper valley when he urged against the proposed narrowing of the flood channels of the Big Tujunga and Palmdale canyons. Great floods are sure to come in the future, and unless the greatest precaution has been taken in the San Fernando valley, they are destined to cause great destruction of life and property, he said.

Assemblyman Speaks

The president of the Los Angeles chamber closed his talk by lauding Frank C. Weller, Glendale member of the State Assembly, who was also one of the speakers last night. Mr. Weller has always worked faithfully for the best interests of the San Fernando valley and Southern California. The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce is proud to be able to work with him, the speaker said.

Assemblyman Weller outlined current legislation and propositions that will come before the voters at the next general election. Mr. Weller said that at Sacramento he accepts the attitude of the Associated Chambers as reflecting the sentiment of the entire valley. He praised the association of civic bodies for its work.

Urges Highway Bill

Hugh J. Pomeroy, secretary of the Regional Planning commission, urged support of the acquisition and approval act, now before Governor Richardson for his signature, declaring that the bill will vitally affect the San Fernando valley, permitting the acquisition of new rights-of-way for highways, rapid transit systems and parks in the valley under a system of district financing that will bring such projects into the financial reach of the different districts. The bill now before the governor includes all the good features of previous legislation of the same nature, he said.

Secretary Pomeroy told the Chamber of Commerce representatives that the Regional Planning commission is taking up the study of traffic conditions in the "neck" of the valley in and around Glendale with a view to relieving traffic congestion in this district. The grade crossing problems of Glendale and Burbank will be one of the first items considered, he said.

Lesperance Presides

President Leo B. Lesperance of the Associated Chambers presided over the meeting. The visitors from seventeen valley cities and towns were welcomed to Glendale by President D. H. Smith of the local Chamber of Commerce, Fred Deal and L. T. Rowley, directors on the Associated Chambers from Glendale were introduced. Others who were presented to the delegates were: A. E. Dufer and C. W. Charville, president and secretary of the Burbank Chamber of Commerce; N. A. Gray, president at Chatsworth; C. H. Randall, president at Roscoe; Harry N. Fowler, president at Verdugo City; Charles O'Leary, president at La Crescenta; A. W. Price, secretary at Chatsworth; E. A. DeGrand, secretary at Girard; S. V. Van Dyanse, George N. Bunton, secretary at Van Nuys; Joe Tanner, secretary of the Ventura boulevard chamber; and Mrs. J. R. Holman, secretary of the East Hollywood association.

George V. Kaufman, president of the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce, one of the honor guests, spoke briefly, pointing out the similar and joint interests of Hollywood and the San Fernando valley.

A new San Fernando valley booster song, composed by W. C. Hayward of Ventura boulevard, was sung by Mrs. Norman Duval.

LEGION NOTES

Members of Glendale post, No. 127, American Legion, and their friends, headed by the Glendale Bugle and Drum corps under the direction of Kenneth F. Butler, invaded Long Beach last night and were guests of Arthur L. Peterson post, No. 27. The trip to Long Beach was made in a special car over the Pacific Electric, leaving the post headquarters at 610 East Broadway, at 6:30 o'clock. The delegation, numbering sixty-five, were met by Long Beach legionnaires, headed by Commander Cliff Wood and Adjutant William Kollender, and marched from the car to the meeting place. The entire program was devoted to dancing and entertainment. Refreshments were served. The special car left the beach city at 11:30 o'clock for the homeward journey.

TUJUNGA NOTES

TUJUNGA, May 13.—The Tujunga Women's club has made arrangements with the Holbeck-Ebell club of East Los Angeles, to sponsor the presentation of an original play by the dramatic section of the latter club, entitled "In the Paths of the Padres," which will be given next Monday night, May 18, at the Tujunga theatre. This is a historic play and they have requested that the club invite John Steven McGroarty to witness the presentation. Admission is free to members of the club and their friends.

At a meeting of the Kiwanis club held May 1, there were present, three speakers from the county health department, Dr. W. H. Bucher, superintendent of Olive View sanitarium, Dr. R. Miller, superintendent of outdoor relief of county charities, and W. W. Holland, superintendent of charities of Los Angeles county. They spoke in regard to the tubercular situation in Tujunga as reported had been made that the new city government would take drastic action against the tubercular patients who had come to Tujunga from Olive View and other places. Assurance was given by them that only fully arrested cases were sent here and patients who were able to take care of themselves. They spoke of the unusual beneficial effects of the climate of Tujunga on such cases. They also stated that a resident nurse is to be assigned to Tujunga, who will be on hand at all times to give advice and render assistance to the patients of the county in Tujunga.

The Service club held its regular meeting May 4. Reports of committees showed that good work had been done in different lines. The Service club room is open every Saturday afternoon from 2 to 5 for receiving donations and for disbursements. An employment agency is established which is in charge of Miss Osgood and Miss Townsend. The Water Co. office, and which has been the means of furnishing employment to a considerable number. The investigating committee reported that many cases of need of food, clothing, and good cheer have been relieved because of the organization and backing of the Service club. The Ladies Aid of the Community church and the guild of the Episcopal church have aided greatly by doing mending.

The report was made that there was need of children's dresses. A number of those present immediately made donations of money for the purpose of buying material for such dresses. There being need of additional funds for carrying on the work during the summer, it was suggested that those present make an appeal to the organizations they represent for contributions to the relief fund of the Service club, and the results are meeting with prompt response.

Mrs. Annie Kindler and Mrs. Maggie Kautz will represent the Tujunga Women's club at the annual convention of the California Federation of Women's clubs to be held in Santa Cruz next week, May 19, 20, 21 and 22.

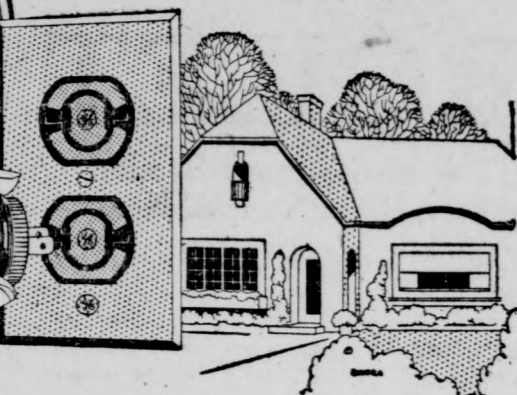

The Tujunga Parents-Teachers' association is represented at the state convention held this week at Fresno, by Mesdames Lynch, Reynolds, Sullivan and Gore.

The school board as now organized, consists of: J. B. Johnson, president; H. B. Lynch, clerk, and Wallace M. Morgan.

Dr. Joseph Jelenc was taken suddenly ill by heart attack last Sunday at the hospital, immediately after performing an operation on a patient for appendicitis. He is reported as improving.

HOSPITAL PLANNED

NEW ORLEANS, May 13.—Work will start shortly on the construction here of a $375,000 tuberculosis hospital which will be erected by the charity hospital from money donated by Mrs. John Dibert. Building permits for April ran above $1,440,000.

Will your New Home be easy to sell?

"Check" Seal wiring is a recognized advantage

Nowadays one of the first things prospective home-buyers look for is completeness and quality of the electric installation. No home is salable which lacks convenient connections for electrical appliances, correct lighting and the installation of standard wiring devices.

If for no other reason than to make your home easy to sell, you should insist on "Check" Seal electrical wiring before you build or buy. The "Check" Seal identifies qualified electrical contractors who make your house a real home of electrical comfort. And when you need electrical appliances, remember that the "Check" Seal identifies electrical retailers who sell quality electrical merchandise.

Painleve Adopts Text
Of Note to Germany

PARIS, May 13.—The Painleve cabinet meeting with President Doumergue unanimously adopted the text of Foreign Minister Briand's two notes on Germany. The first, dealing with alleged German infractions of disarmament provisions, will be handed to the council of ambassadors Friday. The second, the reply to the German security pact proposals, will be sent to the allies immediately. Premier Painleve told the cabinet the Moroccan situation had been stabilized.

Japan has subsidized the dye industry.

Retired Army Officer
Dies at Age of 74

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Major-General Arthur Murray, retired, died here yesterday after an illness of several months at the age of 74. He was born in Bowling Green, Ky. He entered the military academy from that state.

Victim of Baby Farm
Exhumed as Evidence

NEW YORK, May 13.—Upon an order received by Assistant District Attorney William Ryan of the homicide bureau, the bodies of two babies who died at the "baby farm" of Mrs. Helen Geisenvolk were exhumed.

According to Ryan, autopsy which will be performed to determine whether or not a homicide charge will be placed against the woman, now held on a charge of giving William Angerer a child other than his own.

A spring seesaw that may be enjoyed by one child alone has been invented.

Northwest Civic Body Meets Thursday Night

The Greater Northwest Improvement association will hold its April meeting in the Grand View school tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. Civic matters of interest to the citizens of the northwest will be brought up for consideration, and for the enjoyment of all who come it has been arranged to intersperse the business of the meeting with the following entertainment:

Mrs. Nina Butler of Ziegfeld "Follies" will sing and play on the ukelele; J. T. Jenkins will sing; Mrs. A. E. Sherid of 1025 Raymond avenue, who recently gave a recital to the parents of her Grand View pupils, will also be on the program. No admission will be charged, and all are welcome.

DOUBLE FEATURE FOR COSMO BILL

Johnny Walker and 'Battling Orioles' for Last Time; 'Sally' Tomorrow

"The Battling Orioles," the new six-reel Hal Roach Pathe comedy that is being shown for the last times today at the Cosmo theatre, is a modern comedy, but for a few delightful minutes it takes us back to the year of 1874 when the Battling Orioles, who figure prominently in the modern story, were the most belligerent baseball team in suits. This episode, which is as funny as looking over the old family album, pictures the demons of the diamonds in action. Also it illustrates the decorative foliage that adorned the face of each young man of that period and which apparently answered the perplexing question of 1874 of "What the Well Dressed Man Will Wear." This exhibition of whiskers is worth going miles to see. It is delicious satire.

Johnny Walker in "Fashionable Fakers" provides the other portion of the big double bill. Mr. Walker himself, though already well liked for his portrayals in "Over the Hill," "Captain Fly-by-Night" and other widely heralded films, undoubtedly does a bit of work in this latest vehicle which will be received enthusiastically by the country over. As a naive, trusting, small-town character, this popular star has been well cast, and the adventures of Thaddeus Plummer which he enacts should have wide appeal.

Tomorrow the feature picture at the Cosmo theatre will be "Sally," with Colleen Moore in the title role.

Major General Hines To Address Army Club

Glendale members of Los Angeles sector, Association of the Army, today received announcements of Friday night's dinner at the City club. Major General John L. Hines, chief of staff of the armies of the United States, will be speaker.

General Hines, arrives from Hawaii this week where he has been chief umpire of the combined army and navy maneuvers held there. He will speak on the maneuvers. Captain George W. Milson, judge advocate general's reserve, will talk on "The Huns and Vandals Within Our Country."

SALVAGING WARSHIPS

The salvaging and breaking up of German destroyers sunk at Scapa Flow will occupy the rest of the year, and after that raising of the battleships will begin.

'MANNA' ACTRESS IN PATHETIC ROLE

Doris Lloyd Has Appealing Part In Dobinson's Play In L. A.

"Give me a dime's worth of herring; give me a nickel's worth of spuds—Oh, I hate it, I hate it! It's all so dirty and so smelly!"

In these words Kitty Schneider (Doris Lloyd) voices her bitter protest of the role in which life has cast her, assistant to her grumpy, tactless and severe old father in a little grocery store on the poorer side of a big city. Her struggles to escape from the environment and her stinging phrases of rebellion strike a sympathetic chord, for they wake an echo in all of us, no matter how pleasant our lot. The lines of Kitty Schneider are merely the clanking of our own chains, binding us to life's unpleasant duties.

Doris Lloyd makes a great deal of the part of Kitty Schneider in Olga Printz's play of faith and love, "Manna," now showing at the Philharmonic auditorium in Los Angeles for two weeks ending May 23. Glendale has a peculiar and a proprietary pride in "Manna," because the Dobinson Players, who are presenting it in Los Angeles first presented it in Glendale at the Playhouse.

Glendale Production Because of this pride many Glendale people are making the drive to the city to see "Manna," even though they saw it here. And the trip is very much worth while, the cast has been strengthened in several particulars.

Miss Lloyd is pretty and appealing and she is an actress who won her spurs in the hardest school in the world—road shows, in the British provinces. For six years she toiled, living in uncomfortable inns and undergoing the indifference and the slights of those more fortunately placed, for stage people do not enjoy the standing in England that they do here. But she kept serenely on her way, studying, observing life about her, analyzing human motives, preparing herself often unconsciously, for the triumphs which have come to her in the world.

Analyzed, the role of Kitty Schneider is not one of the most sympathetic imaginably, but the glamour of Doris Lloyd's art makes the audience accept the girl unquestioningly. If it had no other feature, "Manna" would be worth seeing on Miss Lloyd's account.

'MARRIED FLIRTS' NOW AT GATEWAY

'Polly' Frederick and Conrad Nagel Star In Current Film At Theatre

Robert G. Vignola, who directed "Married Flirts," which is showing at the Gateway theatre today, says the eternal triangle is quickly passing away and that he believes the quadrangle is now in for a pictorial run.

"The triangle idea has been done so often," says Vignola, "that one can usually close his eyes and feel instinctively what is taking place on the screen. Unless a picture, as well as a book or play, is full of unusual surprises it loses its real value."

The four characters about which the entire story of "Married Flirts" pivots are Pauline Frederick in the title role; Conrad Nagel, portraying Perley Rex; Huntly Gordon, cast as Pen Wayne, and Mae Busch as Jill Wetherell.

There will also be the usual vaudeville featured.

AT VERDUGO CITY

VERDUGO CITY, May 13.—Committee members from the La Crescenta Chamber of Commerce and the Verdugo City Association of Commerce were visitors at the county road department and flood control offices yesterday morning.

Meeting with Henry Wright and George Jones of the road and flood control commission, they were assured of help in the matter of taking care of the flood situation in the valley, by paving with concrete the following avenues, which run north and south through the valley: Briggs, running into Florencia and Orangedale; Rosemont, Los Angeles and Ramsdale.

This work will be begun up at the extreme north boundary, at the hillside, the canyons being controlled with wire banks, the water to be carried off in proper conduits over level ground, down through the runways to the lower wash of the valley. The committees were informed the work would begin at once.

Those attending were: Harry N. Fowler and H. E. Bruce of Verdugo City Association of Commerce; Arthur Aiken, Howard Reynolds, F. O. McKay, H. Scheuner, sr., and H. D. Johnson of the La Crescenta Chamber of Commerce.

Raising $900 in fifteen minutes for the work of paving grading and opening South Los Angeles to the Glendale city limits was accomplished by members of the Verdugo City Association of Commerce toward fulfilling its promise to the county road department to have the needed $2500 in its offices before Saturday. To insure the work being begun by June 1, as promised. Calling on Norman Johnson, assistant fire chief of the county, Harry N. Fowler of the Verdugo City Association of Commerce and Arthur Aiken of the Angeles Forest Protective association had discussed the buzzer system of fire alarms in the valley. All members of the protective association will have the buzzers installed in their homes so they may be aroused at any time to act as volunteer firemen to assist Fire Chief Duncan. The alarms will be strung throughout the valley, so they will be available in summoning assistance. Mr. Flintham of the forest fire patrol will establish headquarters somewhere on Michigan avenue, to be ready to protect the hills during the coming summer.

To assist the local members of the Angeles Protective association in its work there will be a dance given tomorrow night at Oakmont Country club, proceeds to go to the work of building trails over the ranges that protect the valley, thus taking care of the local watershed. The dance will be the last given by the association this season.

BURBANK NEWS

BURBANK, May 13.—C. H. Kline, president of the City Planning commission, represented Burbank at the regular monthly meeting of the Association of City Planners in Los Angeles.

Frank Jenkins of Venice was arrested by Burbank police on a charge of reckless driving. In attempting to pass a car driven by Harold Pitzer, two wheels were torn off each machine.

The local Y. M. C. A. has successfully closed its annual drive for funds, after having obtained $1500 in less than a week's campaign.

W. B. Daune of Glendale was arrested by Burbank police on a charge of possession of liquor. He was found fast asleep in his machine at Alameda and Buena Vista streets, according to police reports.

Chief Long of the Burbank police department and W. E. Gates and D. J. Deolite, former members of the department, are in Los Angeles today, testifying in their own defense in a damage suit in which they are defendants. The action was brought against them for $10,000 from each defendant for alleged false imprisonment.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Colonoms and three children of Rochester, N. Y., arrived here recently from the east and are guests at the home of Mrs. Rebecca Colonoms at 404 Palm avenue.

It is a generally accepted truth that the greatest financial risks are taken by those who can least afford to suffer loss.

The HOUSE of The ARROW

A SERIAL STORY WRITTEN BY A. E. W. MASON
Protected By The McClure Newspaper Syndicate

He was sitting by the tall, broad window which looked out upon the square, expecting some explosion of wrath and contempt. But he saw anxiety peep out from Mr. Haslitt's face and stay there as he read. More than once he stopped altogether in his reading, like a man seeking to remember or perhaps to discover.

"But the whole thing's as clear as daylight," Jim said to himself impatiently. And yet—and yet—Mr. Haslitt had sat in that armchair during the better part of the day, during the better part of thirty years. How many men and women during those years had crossed the roadway below this window and crept into this quiet, oblong room with their grievances, their calamities, their confessions? And had passed out again, each one contributing his little to complete the old man's knowledge and sharpen the edge of his wit? Then, if Mr. Haslitt was troubled, there was something in that letter, or some mission from it, which he himself in his novitiate had overlooked. He began to read it over again in his mind to the best of his recollection, but he had not got far before Mr. Haslitt put the letter down.

"Surely, sir," cried Jim, "it's an obvious case of blackmail."

Mr. Haslitt awoke with a little shake of his shoulders.

"Blackmail? Oh! that of course, Jim."

Mr. Haslitt got up and unlocked his safe. He took from it the two Waberski letters and brought them across the room to Jim.

"Here's the evidence, as damning as any one could wish."

Jim read the letters through and uttered a little cry of delight.

"The rogue has delivered himself over to us."

"Yes," said Mr. Haslitt.

But to him, at all events, that was not enough; he was still looking through the lines of the letter for something beyond, which he could not find.

"Then what's troubling you?" asked Frohisher.

Mr. Haslitt took his stand upon the worn hearthrug with his back towards the fire.

"This, Jim," and he began to expound. "In ninety-five of these cases out of a hundred, there is something else, something behind the actual charge, which isn't mentioned, but on which the blackmailer is really banking. As a rule it's some shameful little secret, some blot on the family honor, which any sort of public trial would bring to light. And there must be something of that kind here. The more preposterous Waberski's accusation is, the more certain it is that he knows something to the discredit of the Harlowe name, which any Harlowe would wish to keep dark. Only, I haven't an idea what the wretched thing can be!"

"It might be some trifle," Jim suggested, "which a crazy person like Waberski would exaggerate."

"Yes," Mr. Haslitt agreed.

"That happens. A man brooding over imagined wrongs, and flighty and extravagant besides—yes, that might well be, Jim."

Jeremy Haslitt spoke in a more cheerful voice.

"Let us see exactly what we do know of the family," he said, and he pulled up a chair to face Jim Frohisher and the window. But he had not yet sat down in it, when there came a discreet knock upon the door, and a clerk entered to announce a visitor.

"Not yet," said Mr. Haslitt before the name of the visitor had been mentioned.

UNCLE WIGGILY

By HOWARD R. GARIS
Copyright, 1925, By The McClure Newspaper Syndicate

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE CLAM SHELL
"Mother, where is Daddy Wig-gily?" asked Jingle and Jangle,
two of the many little rabbit children the new Mrs. Longears had brought with her when she married Uncle Wiggily.

"He is up in the bath room,
shaving," was the answer. "And what are you two little tykes going to do? The mother of Jingle and Jangle often called her two little girls "tykes" because they were so fond of fun and mischief."

"Oh, we are just going to ask him to come and play with us," answered Jingle. For Uncle Wig-gily loved nothing better than to have fun with his new little rabbit children, or, for that matter,
with any of the animal children who lived in Woodland.

Up the stairs of the hollow stump bungalow crept Jingle and Jangle, and before they were at the top they had thought of a joking trick to play on their new daddy. They were always trying to play tricks, were Jingle and Jangle.

"We'll go softly up to the bath room door and shout 'boo!' at him," whispered Jangle to her sister.

"And we'll call 'bah, too,' added Jingle. "He'll think it's the Fuzzy Fox or the Woodie Wolf."

But, as it happened, Uncle Wig-
gily was looking in the glass,
shaving, when the two little rabbit girls crept up the stairs, and over his shoulder he saw their reflection in the mirror and watched them, though they did not know
he had seen them. All of a sudden they shouted:

"Boo! Bah!" Just as the Wolf
or Fox might have done.

But Uncle Wiggily only laughed.

"Ha! Ha!" he cried, twinkling his pink nose. "I see you, little tykes that you are! You can't fool me!"

Then Jingle and Jangle also had to laugh. Their trick was spoiled, but they didn't mind.
They thought they could get up another before the day was over.
So they watched Uncle Wiggily
shave and then Jingle said:

"Will you please come out in the yard and play with us?"

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily hasn't time to play with you!" objected Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, who was tickling a chair with a bunch of feathers to make it sneeze and so shake off the dust.

"Nonsense! Of course I'll play with my new little rabbit girls!"
laughed the bunny gentleman. "I may have an adventure doing it.
What are you playing, Jingle and Jangle?" he asked them.

"Doll," answered Jingle. "And will you please think of a way to get us a bath tub for our little rubber dolls?" asked Jangle. "We tried an old tin can, filled with water, but it's so deep that my doll Kippie nearly drowned."

"And my doll Joopie got water in her nose," added Jingle.

"I think I can find you a better bath tub than an old tin can," said
the bunny gentleman, and by hopping around the edge of the duck
pond he found a large clam shell.

This he brought to where the rabbit girls were playing in the woods. The clam shell was set down in the sand beneath a sheltering tomatoe, and when the shell was filled with water from the spring, it made a fine bath for rubber dolls.

Uncle Wiggily was watching Jingle and Jangle sozzle some soap around in the clam shell bath tub, to make suds with which to bathe their dolls, when, all of a sudden, the bunny gentleman saw the Fuzzy Fox slinking through the bushes. The Fuzzy Fox had given up trying to catch Uncle Wiggily, but the Fox wanted to catch the little rabbit girls.

"But you shan't have them!"
cried Uncle Wiggily. Then he caught up the clam shell bath tub filled with soapy water, and dashed it in the eyes of the Fox, making them smart very much.

"Go! Go! Flo!" howled
the bad chap, running away, his tail between his legs. And the little rabbit girls laughed. Then their new daddy got them more water for the clam shell and the dolls had their bath in the clam shell tub, so everything was all right.

And if the stick of peppermint candy doesn't stand out in the rain until it melts away and grows thin as a lead pencil, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily
and the red stone.

Shepherd Faces Court On Poison Case Today

CHICAGO, May 13.—With its start less than a week ago, preparations were under way here
for the "covering" of the trial of William D. Shepherd, charged with the murder of William Nelson McClintock, his millionaire ward, in the same comprehensive manner in which the Loeb-Leopold trial was handled by newspapers, press and picture associations a year ago.

Both state and defense are preparing for the presentation of the case of Mrs. Shepherd, held by a coroner's jury as an accessory to the alleged murders of Billy and his mother, Mrs. Emma McClintock, to the grand jury today.

INSOMNIA

Some time ago I gave you two papers on insomnia. I will give you a short resume of those papers before going on with the subject.

Of causes of insomnia, after diseases, pain, discomfort, tea, coffee, tobacco, over-eating, under-eating, and the like, are ruled out, the imagining of scenes, disagreeable or pleasurable, past or future, in which you play the star role, takes the first place. To divert your attention and concentration from these scenes, I gave you two methods which I have found effective:

1. Begin with number 999 and count backwards. You can say the number (and visualize it) on deep inspiration, and repeat "I am going to sleep" on expiration.
2. When you are going to sleep, you notice your mental images become distorted and grotesque. Artificially induce that state—think of funny-shaped animals or people or other objects. My favorite is a pink elephant with streamer ribbon on his tail. I start off with him.

If these methods fail with me (and they do occasionally if I take coffee at night) I get up and study or write for three-quarters of an hour. That has not failed me yet.

I have given you three methods of inducing sleep. Now I'll give you something to show you that you need not worry if they don't work! It is from Dr. Boris Sidis' views on sleep as given by the famous psychologist in the American Magazine:

"Sleep is not as important as people think it is. Rest is important! In fact, it is essential. But we do not have to be absolutely unconscious (as we are in the sleep state) in order to rest. The lower animals do not sleep as human beings do. They literally sleep with one eye open, sometimes with both eyes partially open. They prick up their ears at sounds which, in our sleep state, we would not hear. In them, sleep is only a pronounced rest state."

"Therefore, the first thing for you to realize, if you are more or less wakeful, is that it is nothing you have caused to worry about. Moreover, this realization that sleep is not all-important will be a great factor in helping you to sleep. Nine-tenths of your difficulty in going to sleep is due to your fear that you won't go to sleep. And nine-tenths of the bad effects of a sleepless night are not the result of your loss of sleep, but of your worry over it."

"I do not say this in order to delude you into a better frame of mind, one that is favorable to sleep; but because it is physiologically as well as psychologically true! People make a sort of fetish of sleep. They fix upon a certain number of hours which they think they must have, in order to be well. Then they measure each night's sleep; and if it is short of the sacred number of hours, they are full of worry and fear."

"Don't be impatient for sleep to come. Let it take its time. Don't lie there, saying to yourself, 'It is 2 o'clock now! I have to get up at 7. If I don't go to sleep right away, I won't get even five hours of sleep—and I ought to have eight.'"

"If you do pay attention to the time, say to yourself, 'I have been in bed, resting, for several hours already. And I have five hours more in which I can rest. Eight hours of rest! It's wonderful to lie here quietly and to know that I am storing up energy all the time.'"

This is very interesting and helpful, isn't it? Here are some quotations from the Book of Books, that Dr. Sidis might have been inspired by:

"I will lay me down in peace, and sleep, for Thou, Lord, only makest me dwell in safety." Ps. 4:8.

"When thou liest down, thou shalt not be afraid; yea, thou shalt lie down and thy sleep shall be sweet." Ps. 3:24.

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we will please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type them if you can. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters I receive, and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible; if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s.a.s.e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Chats On Beauty

By EDNA KENT FORBES

SPLIT HAIR

In taking up the little points, one by one, which the beauty seeker contends with, we find that hands and hair are of the first importance. The well groomed woman has perfect hands and perfect hair; the careless woman neglects these two items. The hair must always look as though it had been shampooed that very day; it must be soft and glossy and smoothly brushed so not a hair is out of place, as though a skilled hair dresser has just finished with it. That's a hard ideal if you have to be your own ideal hair dresser, but it isn't an impossible one.

Now as to the hair's health. The two first signs of trouble are split ends and dandruff. Both can be cured by oil rubs, proper shampooing, and tonics. I can help you in two ways, by sending you (enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request) the formula for a hair tonic which can be made up with pilocarpine to prevent gray hair, or without it to use as a general tonic and stimulant; and of a henna shampoo which simply brightens the color of the hair and leaves it clean and fluffy when it is dry. You can use the tonic three times a week, and the shampoo once a week if the hair grows greasy, provided you rub oil into the scalp the night before the shampoo, and clip off the ends of the hair once a month if they split.

If your hair is hopeless to comb for a day or so after washing, do not dry, but while it is fairly wet, "set" it with combs arranged to form waves, and let it dry as you sit before a fire. This puts in a wave that will last days. Or, when nearly dry, roll up on kid curlers for a few hours or, as soon as dry, roll strands around a fairly hot iron, to wave it.

Comet—Instead of lemon juice for bleaching your arms, try buttermilk, or a mixture of equal parts of lemon juice, rose water and glycerine.

Babe—If you can add another quart of milk to your present amount of nourishment, it will help you gain in weight. It is best to take some of it hot before retiring.

Curley—With light brown hair, blue eyes and a fair skin, your best choice of colors will be all the browns and blues and the shades that are darker than your hair and eyes. Your weight should be about 110 pounds for a girl of 16 1/2 years, with a height of five feet, one inch.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Be sure to use YOUR full name, street number, and the name of your city and state. The Editor.

Gives Luncheon

Complimenting her mother and sister, Mrs. A. B. Meredith of San Francisco and Mrs. H. R. Blythe of Berkeley, who are visiting in Glendale, Mrs. W. R. Kugler entertained yesterday afternoon with a luncheon at her home, 833 Porter street. Cards were the diversion of the afternoon, with prizes being awarded to Mrs. Meredith and Mrs. Peter Diederich. Blue delphinium and yellow coreopsis were used for decorations.

Guests were: Mrs. A. B. Meredith of San Francisco; Mrs. H. R. Blythe of Berkeley; Mrs. J. Hendrickson of Alameda; Mrs. C. A. Anderson of Los Angeles; Mesdames Peter Diederich, R. M. Ferguson, R. Preston and A. B. Bonham of Glendale. San Francisco and Glendale friends of Mrs. Meredith will be interested to learn that she made the trip from the north by automobile, driving the entire distance herself, in company with her daughter and a friend. This was the first time Mrs. Meredith had driven a long distance, and made the trip in seventeen hours, via the coast route.

Shower Honoree

Misses Cleo Redd and Mildred Finn were hostesses Monday night at a shower given at the Redd home, 214 East Garfield avenue, to compliment Miss Alice Finn of 218 East Garfield avenue, whose marriage to E. J. Albright of 1912 Gardena avenue will take place Monday, May 18, 1923. The decorations of the home were in pink, blue and white, the table centerpiece being sweet peas. Games and music furnished entertainment for the evening and later luncheon was served by the hostesses. Miss Finn was the recipient of many gifts of silver, cutglass, linen and china. Guests were Miss Alice Finn, Lucille Whitson, Grace Malloux of Glendale, Marie Finney of Hollywood, Ruth Walsh and Charlotte Linbeck of Los Angeles, Mesdames F. L. Ricketts, W. E. Norman, E. C. Wentworth, M. H. Finn and H. L. Redd.

Attend Services

Plans were made last night at the meeting of Mary Jane Gillett Tent, No. 18, Daughters of Veterans, at 1430 1/2 South San Fernando road, to attend the memorial services, Sunday, May 24, at First Methodist Episcopal church. Dr. Lincoln A. Ferris, pastor, will deliver the memorial address.

Mrs. Queen Danner and Mrs. Pearl Moore make up the memorial committee. Mrs. Mae H. Dutton, president, directed the business meeting, when reports were made by Mrs. Hattie Tiffany on work of the floral committee, and Mrs. Queen Danner, for the relief committee. A meeting of the Nimble Fingers Sewing club will be held in June at the home of Mrs. Sheldon, South Central avenue.

Tropico Society

An all-day meeting of the Aid society of Tropico Presbyterian church will be held tomorrow, beginning at 10:30 o'clock in the morning, at the church. The time will be spent in tying comforters with luncheon at noon and a business meeting in the afternoon.

Mrs. J. M. Server and Mrs. Ida Dunham will be hostesses. Mrs. Server is president and will direct the business meeting.

At Truman Home

Royal Neighbors Sewing club will meet all day tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Truman, 456-A West Windsor road. Sewing for the bazaar will occupy most of the time. Mrs. Ida Leach, president, will have charge of the business hour.

Lutheran Guild

Mrs. George Gunther, president, will direct the meeting tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock of Lutheran Guild, to be held at the church, 232 South Kenwood street. A social hour with refreshments will be held after the meeting.

Lydias Will Meet

Lydia class members of Glendale Presbyterian church, are to have a business and social meeting at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Martin Ball, 432 West Windsor road.

Woodcraft Circle

Glen Rose Circle, Neighbors of Woodcraft, will meet tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at 108 North Brand boulevard. Mrs. Minnie V. Littleton, guardian neighbor, will have charge of the meeting.

Work at Church

Several members of the Aid society of Central Avenue Methodist church met yesterday afternoon at the church and spent the afternoon trying comforters.

Meet Thursday

Glendale Council, No. 3696, Security Benefit association, will hold a meeting tomorrow night at Hahn's hall, J. A. Tipson, president, presiding.

Entertains Club

Members of the Jolly Workers' club will meet tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. C. Francis, 1014 Tyler street.

Girls Honorees

Tatapochon Campfire Girls were honored Monday night at a banquet at First Congregational church. Welcoming the company was Miss Josephine Franklin.

Mrs. R. W. Haight responded. Yellow and lavender were used in the dinner appointments—flowers, candles, bon-bon boxes and hand-painted placecards in these colors, being features. After dinner the mothers of the girls had the pleasure of witnessing the ceremonials. There were thirty girls and women present. The camp, under the guardianship of Mrs. Roy Watrous, includes Anna Marjorie Phillips, Josephine Franklin, Margaret Haight, Lucille Gracias, Viola Van Pelt, Betty Budd, Nyla Chapman, Janice Fletcher, Margaret Knight, Willa Hoyd Budd, Grace Thompson, Edith McIntyre, Ruth Hudson, Rose Watrous and Marjorie Brown.

Program for Club

Patrons of the Thursday Afternoon club of Glendale are to enjoy an unusual treat in the entertainment to be given by Miss Hazel Campbell, students of the Little Players Studio, and the Piggy Wiggly Hawaiian Trio, on Saturday night, May 16, at the K. P. hall, corner of Park avenue and South Brand boulevard. The dramatic entertainment, to be directed by Miss Campbell, will include the presentation of a one-act play and a number of character sketches and readings. The Piggy Wiggly Trio of funmakers, who have been broadcasting regularly from radio stations in Los Angeles, will supplement the program with Hawaiian melodies and popular songs. The program will be followed by dancing. The proceeds are to go toward the club building fund.

Hear Mrs. Dyke

Mrs. Estelle D. Dyke, chairman of flowers and birds of Los Angeles district, California Federation of Women's clubs, was the interesting speaker last night at the meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club at the home of Mrs. Ella Richardson, North Brand boulevard. Mrs. Dyke, who is widely versed in natural science, brought a collection of wild flowers, made on Monday in the foothills, and also a collection of bird specimens, with which to illustrate her talk.

Mrs. Josephine Woolsey, club president, named as members of the election board Miss Lillian Medic, Miss Elizabeth Stevens, Miss Weed. Annual election will be held the first week in June. Two weeks from last night there will be a garden party at the home of Mrs. Virginia Freeman.

Honors Visitor

Mrs. Mary J. Woodruff of Brooklyn, N. Y., who has been visiting relatives in Glendale for several months, was honored guest yesterday afternoon at a luncheon given by her sister-in-law, Mrs. M. E. Smith, 717 South Colby avenue. The luncheon table was made attractive with pink carnations and baby breath. The afternoon was spent informally. Guests were: Mesdames Geis, William Willis and Jesse E. Smith.

Leads Law Club

Mrs. H. H. Harris, formerly a student of parliamentary law with Mrs. Osborn, one of California's first parliamentarians, will direct the drill Friday morning at the meeting of the Parliamentary Law club of Glendale at the public library. Mrs. Harry Greenwalt, club president, will give a lesson on "Credentials." The club meets at 10 o'clock and all Glendale women interested are welcome to attend.

Directs Design

John W. Cotton, artist, was in charge of work on book cover designs yesterday morning at the meeting of the fine arts department of the Tuesday Afternoon club. Later members of the department visited the banquet hall with Mr. Cotton and enjoyed hearing him talk on the collection of pictures by California artists, now on display.

For Mrs. Cotner

Mrs. C. E. Cotner was complimented last night at a party given by Mesdames Zoula Brown, L. F. Vaughn and L. E. Olson at the Olson home 1431 North Pacific avenue. Games and music formed entertainment for the evening and later refreshments were served on individual trays. Decorations were in pink and white. Thirty guests were present.

BANTAM CHAMP TEMPERAMENTAL

Charley Rosenberg Gets In Wrong With Public on Nicholls Fight

By FAIR PLAY
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.
NEW YORK, May 13.—Charley Rosenberg, the new bantamweight champion, seems to have got off on the wrong foot in his quest for public approval. Not long ago the champion was contracted to fight Johnny Nicholls in Detroit and refused to weigh in for the bout. A representative of the commission promptly called off the fight and held up Charley's forfeit money.

A few more actions like this will serve to bring a lot of prima donna title holders to their senses. Harry Segal, who looks after the interest of the bantam king, is a newcomer comparatively speaking in the managerial game, but he has learned the fine art of keeping his boy in print as well as out of battles that look dangerous.

The fans were thrilled the other day at the prospect of a fight and consequent probable change of title when it was announced that Rosenberg and Frankie Genaro would meet. But the hopes aroused were short lived. The prospect was squashed.

Segal thus explains his change of heart. He is willing to have his meal ticket meet the American flyweight champion in Jersey where no decisions are permitted and accept a small purse, $20,000. "If," added Segal, "Frankie wants to fight Rosenberg for his title he will have to find a promoter who is willing to give Charley $75,000 for his end. The title is worth all of that."

Of course Segal is not the only clever manager who is protecting his champion's title in accordance with such methods and so if you blame one you have got to blame all.

Even Mickey Walker has made it his business to see that his title is not in danger when he meets Lefty Cooper in San Francisco on May 16. A clause in contract calls for Cooper to weigh not less than 150 pounds. This is three pounds above the welter limit and holds the title safe in event that Walker should be licked. This is unlikely, though as Cooper is not in the class of the welter champion.

Nurmi Invited To Try For Mile World Mark

FRY'S PHYSICAL FACTS

By PROF. BYRON G. FRY
Health Expert and Champion Bag Puncher of America.
Written For The Evening News

The warm bath in the milk diet is very important in cases where the patient is very low with any disease. The chronic person who has some pet ailment, such as pimples, indigestion, gastritis, sour stomach, catarrh, cold hands and feet, biliousness, underweight and a few other ailments that could be mentioned, does not necessarily need the warm bath every day.

In the case of insomnia a hot bath before going to bed will be found beneficial and will often bring relief on any kind of diet, but the evening meal must be very light and well masticated.

In case of low vitality take the warm bath daily. The first bath should not last more than ten or fifteen minutes. The following day the bath should be increased five or ten minutes and so on until a full hour is occupied.

Let the tub be prepared with water at a temperature of 90 or 95 degrees Fahrenheit. As soon as the patient becomes accustomed to this temperature, the heat of the water should be gradually increased until he feels perfectly comfortable.

Then lie in this until about five minutes before ready to leave the bath, then enough hot water should be added to produce a thorough glow of warmth throughout the body. The heat should never be great enough to produce dizziness or discomfort.

It is well to emphasize and re-impress upon the mind of the reader this point in regard to the increase of temperature of the bath. Begin at a temperature that is pleasant and produces no unpleasant sensations whatever, add more hot water to the bath about five minutes before leaving the bath, until the water is as warm as the patient can comfortably bear it.

In very hot weather it is well to begin the bath at a slightly lower temperature than 90 to 95 degrees Fahrenheit, as this abstracts a little of the excessive heat from the body of the patient and adds to his comfort, the chief purpose of the bath being to produce a feeling of complete relaxation, and thus aid the process of recuperation.

Tomorrow—More About Milk

GORMAN VS. SPENCER

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—In what the ring critics voted one of the best ten-round scraps staged here since the return of the long route encounters, Joe Gorman and George Spencer secured a draw last night, although many believed Gorman was entitled to a decision. Teddy Seidman decisioned Johnny Sacco, Buffalo, in the semi-final.

WIN TWO GAMES

The Braves made it entirely unanimous by winning both games of a doubleheader with the Cubs, 2 to 0, and 3 to 1, sweeping the series. Cooney, Marquard and Ryan pitched sensationally, holding the Cubs to one run in eighteen innings.

SIMMONS RESPONSIBLE

Simmons hit a double, triple and homer, driving in all of the Athletics' runs as Sam Gray won his sixth straight game by beating the Tigers 4 to 3.

SEVEN-RUN RALLY

A seven-run rally in the ninth, featured by two homers, staked the Phillies to the first game, 8 to 5, but the Pirates came back like a prodigal son in the second and won 13 to 8.

Got Start on Pacific Coast

Some of the stars in the big league appeared in California before they were purchased by baseball magnates. GORDON COCHRANE, catcher, was purchased by Connie Mack to complete what stacks up now as a $150,000 battery, with Lefty Groves.

SPORT CHATTER

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, May 13.—Edward G. Barrows, who directs the destinies of the New York Yankees except on the ball field, is headed west to lend what aid he may in the further dismantling of that proud club. The process of demotion, begun with the benching of Scott last week, probably will be continued via a trade with the White Sox in Chicago.

The first of the Yanks said to be ticketed for immediate transfer is Waite Hoyt. He is still in his middle twenties and should be a great right-hander. He should, but isn't. A change of scene might prove highly beneficial to Hoyt and probably he will get it.

Scott is another who has outlasted his welcome at the Yankee stadium. He was eased out of the lineup after playing 1,307 consecutive games and at the time took occasion to predict that he "would never sit on the bench."

The Sox, having been in need of infielders since the 1919 scandal waffled Risberg, Weaver and Gandil to the other darkness of baseball's forgotten, would be in a position to give Scott more active work than he could find with the New York club.

Sam Jones and Bob Shawkey also come under the head of trading possibilities, although it is not likely the Sox will become emotional about Shawkey. Shawkey seems to be at about the end of his major league rope.

If the Yanks give pitchers, however, they will want pitchers in return and the Sox can hardly be said to reek with the breed. In the matter of acceptable trading material, they have Faber, Robertson, Connally, Blankenship, Leverett, Davenport and Thurston, constituting their first-string staff. There is hardly one of them that Eddie Collins would not relinquish on the promise of Hoyt.

The Yanks may be willing to pass Scott along without getting his equivalent in infield material, but in that case, they will want someone else, to-wit: A hard-hitting outfielder. They are in desperate need of such a man with Ruth out of the line-up for an indefinite period and are said to be peering fixatedly at either Bob Falk or Johnny Mostil. Repeated efforts have convinced them that they cannot get Falk, but Mostil is a bare possibility.

If he is included in the deal, the Yanks must part with an infielder. Their choice would rest between Whitey Witt, the best lead-off man in the league, or Ben Paschal, who is leading the junior circuit in hitting. Meusel would be very acceptable to the Sox, despite the fact he is not hitting the size of his neckband.

POLO AT NIGHT

An innovation in Pacific coast sporting circles is to be started within the next few weeks at the new Hollywood Heights Polo and Hunt club, located on Ventura boulevard, opposite the Hollywood Country club, in the form of night polo.

Mother Hurts Son In Trying Golf Strokes

SEATTLE, May 13.—Albert Wichtahl, 10 years old, is in the city hospital today with a fractured skull, sustained when his mother, Mrs. Lillian Wichtahl, struck him on the forehead with a golf club while trying to hit a golf ball in practice yesterday afternoon. The lad will probably recover, physicians said.

BOWLING SCORES

It took an extra frame in the last game to decide the City league match between the Pullman Cafe and the Calla Lily Creamery, the milkmen winning two out of three games. The first game went to the cafe men, while the milkmen took the second. They were tied at 808 for the final game. Roder of the winners and Moore of the losers tied for high score with 203.

The Kiwanis club, with Bob Adams, 300 bowler, as anchor man, dropped two out of three games to Optimist No. 2 team.

INTERMEDIATE GAME

Glendale Intermediate school boys won the second junior game of the inter-school baseball schedule yesterday on the Wilson Intermediate school grounds. The score was 8 to 1. Batteries for Wilson were Denny Tatlow and Gilbert Eckles; for Glendale, Kenneth Beales and Ardell McLaughlin. W. Carr and W. Inness of the faculties umpired.

PASS AWAY GAME

The generosity of the inebriated marine gent had nothing on Leo Dickerman, who passed five in the first four innings, and the Giants coasted into a 3 to 1 decision over the Cardinals, giving them three out of four in the series.

JOHN B. FOSTER'S VIEWS

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.
NEW YORK, May 13.—

Branch Rickey, in addition to being vexed over the problem of pitchers which ever confronts him, has been having an awful time trying to separate the St. Louis National outfield sheep from the goats.

In California he had so many charmers in the outfield that he scurried from one to another, as each of them bobbed up with something that the others could not produce.

Since the season began, Mueller has played centerfield ten times, thereby establishing a record at center for the St. Louis season. Hafey got in four times at center and Douthitt has played the position five times, while Whinnery, who seemed to be the original selection for the job, never has played center although he has been able to break in twice in left field.

Rickey groomed Holm for a right fielder. He didn't start him at that job. He sent him first to left for two games. Then he switched him to right, where Holm was allowed to scamper about for eleven games.

Suddenly and just on the verge of going east, Rickey sent Holm to Syracuse, dropping him into the International, along with Thevenow, to the consternation of those who had been boosting Holm's future.

Flack got a job in right field at the start of the season. Rickey gave him four games there, only to bench him. Once he sent him to left, but Flack in left is like a Frenchman in a bierstube.

Blades was the original left field choice. He had a trial at the position in eleven games. Blades has been unlucky. He sprung a charley horse in his arm out in California, a complaint which usually appertains to the leg. For a little bit, Blades was despondent because he thought this trouble, which was the return of an old ailment, was going to put him out of the game completely.

Others who got a chance in left field have been Douthitt, one game; Smith, two games; Whinnery, as stated before, two games. Smith is the excellent outfielder that St. Louis has carried for several years, and who would be best served, perhaps, if he were allowed to go elsewhere, where he would get smoother handling.

Hafey, who has played in center field in four games and also has played four in right, is the young Texan who wrote the St. Louis management he couldn't possibly think of reporting for less than $7500 per year, although he was scarcely known outside his home town. Hafey was the innocent victim of an old time ball player, who filled his head with grandiose ideas of what he should expect and of how high were living costs in the east.

Taken all in all, the life of the outfielder with the Cardinals' aggregation has been anything but smooth sailing thus far this season.

TO-NIGHT'S CARD

Handsomeness Jack Carr, the "sheik of Glendale," will step ten rounds or less with Tough Benny Diaz, Lyceum Mexican, in one of the main events will be staged at the San Fernando Coliseum, tonight. An additional main event between Young Ford, negro heavyweight, and Jim Barry, Mexican heavyweight, is carded.

Both finals will be ten rounds. Matchmaker Jimmy Slick has carded Chuck Borden of Glendale, to meet Teddy Adams of San Fernando, for the welter championship of San Fernando valley.

The complete card follows: Connie Bell vs. Kid Bell, 4 rounds, 155 pounds; Chuck Borden vs. Teddy Adams, 6 rounds, 145 pounds; Jim Barry vs. Young Ford, 10 rounds, 200 pounds; Benny Diaz vs. Jack Carr, 10 rounds, 120 pounds.

Pacific Coast Clubs Must Reduce to Limit

LOS ANGELES, May 13.—President Harry Williams served notice today that Pacific Coast baseball clubs must have the player limit rule in effect next Friday, whereby each team is limited to twenty players of more than one year's experience and five rookies. The Vernon club is now down to the limit and Los Angeles is endeavoring to dispose of its lone surplus player, Elmer Myers, a pitcher.

LEFT HAND WIN

The Red Sox were left handed into submission by Sherrod Smith while the Indians trifled with Wingfield and Ross for ten hits and a 9 to 4 victory.

BROWNS WIN AGAIN

With Sisler running his streak to twenty-seven games and Williams getting two homers, the Browns won on the bit from Senators, 6 to 3.

Two Bowling Teams Enter Coast Event

Two Glendale bowling teams will leave tomorrow morning for San Francisco to participate in the Pacific Coast bowling congress. They will roll in the team events on Friday and the singles and doubles on Saturday. The members of the Glendale Recreation team are Harry Moore, Claude Caswell, C. Peterson, H. Graus, O. Pabst and H. Magnuson. The members of the Pacific Electric club are Anstey, Morgan, F. Braehme, Will Clavin and Pete Neise.

HULL TRUCKMEN DEFEAT MILKMEN

Fanset Effective On Mound While Teammates Hit Two Pitchers

The Hull Trucks had everything their own way in the Twilight league game yesterday, defeating the Calla Lily team 14 to 1. H. Jensen was the only player on the truckmen's team who did not cross the rubber during the five and a half innings, while Morgan, pitcher for the milkmen, counted the only score chalked up by the creamery lads.

Fanset was on the mound for the truckmen, and struck out four men. He was touched for four hits. Morgan worked three rounds on the mound for the milkmen, whiffing three. Ennis, in two innings, struck out two. Both pitchers on the milkmen's team walked two men. Numerous errors were made on both sides.

Today's game will be between the Glendale Creamery and the Postoffice employees. Immediately following the game the managers and captains of the various teams will hold a meeting at the Harvard High school gym to decide on rules, adopt a schedule and select another team to make eight clubs in the league.

REALTORS OPPOSE ANNEXATION PLAN

Ruling Of National Body Is Assailed By Board At Meeting Today

Facing disfranchisement under a ruling announced today, in the event this city ever becomes annexed to Los Angeles, the Glendale Realty board will "fight to the last ditch" any attempt of the National Real Estate association to "make the ruling stick." This was the verdict of Glendale realtors at the meeting today noon, when Peter Hanson, past president of the board, announced that a telegram received by him today reverses the decision of the national board of directors in the matter of real estate boards retaining their identity after their city is annexed to another, and declares that all boards in annexed territory must cease to exist.

"The latest ruling of the national directors directly affects Glendale which might some day become a part of Los Angeles. It is of prime importance to us as a realty board to guard against disruption of our board at some future date through a measure that is threatening to become the law of the land at the present time," Charles B. Guthrie declared in urging that the Glendale board go on record as opposed to the annexation clause in the ruling of the national directors.

E. P. Hayward, director of the board, urged that in the event the national association insists on enforcing its decision putting small boards in annexed territory out of existence, that the Glendale board threaten to withdraw from the national organization.

President W. L. Twining, W. L. Truitt, Glendale delegates to the national real estate convention, and Peter Hanson, will champion Glendale's cause at a meeting called for discussion of the national board's decision to be held at San Pedro next Wednesday. By motion these delegates were instructed to hold out against any endorsement of the ruling.

Glendale realtors will attend the Pomona Realty board's annual picnic on Saturday when a caravan of twenty-five or more automobiles from here will go to the San Gabriel valley city. All realtors and their families are invited. W. L. Truitt is in charge of the Glendale caravan.

Frank Hoopes and members of the sales force of Hayward & McCartney had charge of the entertainment program today, presenting R. A. Gilbert, hypnotist, and variety numbers. The meeting was held at the Egyptian Village cafe.

Rain Drenches Season's New Straw 'Kellys'

Bright and early, bold and venturesome, the straw lid made its official appearance this morning, only to be coyly tucked under spreading umbrellas, or concealed beneath coats, as an April shower, one month overdue, showed its contempt for fashion's decree on men's headgear. Straw Hat day, proclaimed throughout Southern California as Wednesday, May 13, an unlucky day for fets, dawned with timid sun, timid as the wearers of the stable products. As the morning progressed and the straw hat wearers became more bold, storm clouds gathered and the downpour started. Wearers will not see the silver lining of the clouds, either, as the weather report says the showers will last tomorrow.

COMEDIAN MAKES LIONS' DEN LAUGH

City Clerk Van Wie Puts On Funny Sketch At Meet Of Glendale Club

The Glendale den of Lions, meeting at the Harriet Mae tea room in regular session today, were entertained by A. J. Van Wie, city clerk and member of the local den. He presented a long "comedy" resolution which contained "hits" at various members of the den and concluded with a "motion picture" which he presented without the aid of a theatre, lights, camera, ushers, box office or other requirements of a "regular" theatre. Van Wie took all of the parts called for in the play.

Previous to the entertainment, a short business session was held at which the Glendale den went on record as favoring the election at the San Diego convention the last of this month of Jack Riley for district governor of the Lions. The local delegates, however, will go to the convention uninstructed. W. B. Kelly, president, presided at today's meeting.

California Is Visited By General Downpour

Adviser J. W. Adriance. The principal damage, he said, would be done to early varieties of cherries and to cut hay. Other crops were not expected to be affected. Rainfall for the past twenty-four hours amounted to .58 inch, bringing the total for the season to 17.23 inches.

More Than Inch of Rain at Sacramento

SACRAMENTO, May 13.—A scheduled straw hat day celebration here today turned into an umbrella pageant as the storm of the past few days continued unabated. The rainfall for the storm had reached 1.15 inches this morning and the United States weather bureau office here predicted rain for the remainder of the day. Slight damage to grain, cherries and strawberries was reported by the state department of agriculture.

KID MEXICO HITS FLOOR 12 TIMES

Bout Stopped In Second As Colima Pounds Veteran Around Vernon Ring

Kid Mexico, veteran of over 400 ring battles, met his Waterloo last night at Vernon in the second round when Referee Harry Lee stopped what was to be a ten-round bout between Kid Mexico and Bert Colima. Kid Mexico reposed on the canvas no less than eight times in the opening round, and had reached the halfway mark in the second when the fight was stopped. In the semi-dwindling Henry Melcar won the nod over Hayden Pythian in six rounds. Lack of experience cost the former U. S. C. football star the verdict. Johnny Gardener won over Nick Antonio in six rounds. Joe Garcia came back strong after taking the nine-count in the first round, and put Young Cumpston to sleep in the second frame. Carl Sepulveda lasted less than two rounds against Leo Barlage.

LOUISIANA PLANS FOR TRADE DRIVE

L. M. Fisher Gives Merchants Ideas For Trading In Glendale Campaign

Urging his selection as head of a "Trade in Glendale" campaign, Louis M. Fisher appeared today before the Glendale Merchants' association and declared that the first thing necessary in such a movement is to create a popular promenade on Brand boulevard. Fisher formerly connected with a New York textile manufacturing house, said that his first move would be to create sums of money in various windows, and, after advertising strongly, award it to persons who guessed the location. He would also create the "Raffles" of other cities, he said, to go about the streets in connection with newspaper advertising; persons who picked him out on the street to be handed sums of money.

Decorate Stores
He urged the creation of a fund to start with approximately $240 a week, toward which each member of the association would donate $1 each; that amount to be doubled and trebled later. Automobile stickers and heavy newspaper advertising is also necessary, he said.

President C. J. Hatz announced that he will appoint a committee within the next few days to confer with Fisher. Tentative plans for decoration of stores during the Shrine convention in Los Angeles, June 1 to June 2, were discussed. A committee to confer with Shrine officials will be appointed by Hatz.

Dempsey Does Not Box; Head Of House Says No

LONDON, May 13.—Jack Dempsey was up early today and enjoyed a walk through Hyde park while his wife still rested from the unpleasant effects of the voyage which brought them to England yesterday from the United States.

Dempsey was to have boxed Phil Scott, English heavyweight, at a benefit last night which the National Sporting club had arranged. But when Dempsey appeared he said he would like to fight "but my wife won't let me." Then he explained that both had been ill in crossing and that he did not feel well enough to enter the ring.

English Diplomat Dies After Notable Career

LONDON, May 13.—Sir Alfred Milner, secretary of war in 1918, died here today, after a brief illness. He was 71 years old and had been active since his school days in journalistic, diplomatic and literary work. He became private secretary to the chancellor of the exchequer in 1887.

Save Mail as Plane Falls In Nebraska

SHELDON, Neb., May 13.—Flying between Omaha and North Platte, crashed to the ground near here early today and narrowly escaped death when his plane broke into flames. A relief plane reached the scene later from Omaha and took Lang to a hospital at North Platte, where physicians said he would recover from injuries received in the fall. The mail cargo was delayed three hours but was not damaged.

French Tells Germans How Treaty Stands

PARIS, May 13.—France is willing to negotiate with Germany concerning Germany's security pact proposal, but the negotiations must be based on the Versailles treaty, said a high official of the foreign office. Foreign Minister Briand's note answering Germany's proposal would courteously and concisely state this premise, he said, even though Germany is not yet a member of the League of Nations.

MELLON HAS NEW METHOD FOR TAX

Secretary Of Treasury Says Surtaxes Readjustment Would Be Help

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1923.
WASHINGTON, May 13.—Secretary Mellon has adopted a new method of approach to the tax revision which may become the basis of the administration's entire argument for reduction of surtaxes in the next session of Congress.

Mr. Mellon confesses that it is hopeless to expect the immediate passage of a constitutional amendment restricting the issuance of tax-exempt securities but declares there is another and even more effective way of cutting off "this inviting avenue of escape from taxation."

The secretary realizes, of course, that even a federal amendment could not affect the $11,000,000,000 of tax-exempt securities now issued and proposes, therefore, that the government readjust surtaxes "on a basis that will attract capital back into productive securities yielding security from exhausting itself in tax-exempt securities or from taking advantage of other methods of investment by which taxes are avoided."

There has been talk of a 25 per cent surtax rate as the maximum to be applied, but Mr. Mellon points out that Congress must go lower than that really to compete with tax-exempt securities.

"To a man whose income is subject to the higher brackets of the present law," says Mr. Mellon, "a taxable investment should yield a return of about 8 per cent tax exempt security. On the other hand under a total normal and surtax of 20 per cent, a taxable business yielding slightly more than 5 1/2 per cent would be the equivalent in net return of a 4 1/2 per cent municipal bond. We can see therefore, that if the surtax rates are reduced to a reasonable figure, the lure of tax exempt securities will become less appealing and the man of large income will find it advantageous to invest in productive business."

At no time has the administration ventured to ask Congress to place the surtax rates low enough as to compete actually with tax exempt securities. The secretary now comes out frankly for such an equalization and it means a surtax of not much more than 15 per cent.

The treasury experts figured it out two years ago that the most suitable surtax maximum that could be applied and yet yield the government sufficient revenue from that source was around 15 per cent. Mr. Mellon felt it expedient to ask for 25 per cent. Congress gave the country 37 1/2 per cent. The secretary is planning to renew his appeal but this time the indications are he will not go for 25 but for something around 15. There is considerable sentiment in Congress now in favor of a 25 maximum. Many members who opposed it before are converted to it. The secretary may not get a 15 per cent rate but if he asks for that he is earnest however in advocating 15 per cent or at least a rate that will compete with tax exempts because he is positive more money can be produced for the government under such a rate than under the higher rates.

There may be some effort made to provide a gradual scale of reduction such as 25 per cent the first year, 20 per cent the next and 15 per cent the next. Even this would have a calculable effect on the whole revenue situation. While Mr. Mellon does not refer to a sliding scale, he has in mind a tax program that would cover a longer period than one year.

"The government," he says, "can afford to view taxation from the standpoint of a long period of years. In framing a tax law it should take into consideration not only the income to be derived during the first year or two of the law's operation but its ultimate effect over a long period of years and on the prosperity of the country as a whole. This is what tax reform really means."

The treasury department is getting ready to lay before Congress a mass of statistics on the operation of the last revenue law with the hope that the legislators will become convinced that present methods of tax avoidance by the purchase of tax exempt securities can be successfully fought only by making the taxable investments more attractive in actual yield after taxes have been deducted.

L. A. EXCHANGE

LOS ANGELES, May 13.—Los Angeles Investment furnished the majority of the action at the session of the Los Angeles stock exchange today, with Marine Oil close behind, setting a new high mark on the local board. The market generally was dull, trading being overshadowed by the activity of Marine and Los Angeles Investment, which closed at $6.79.

MARKET SUMMARY

LOS ANGELES, May 13.—Friday and Saturday of this week 300 representatives of the mining, power and railway interests of the state will gather at the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of expanding California's mineral industries. Los Angeles Investment stock shot up fifty-five points on the local exchange, receding to $6.57 on the close after 9000 shares changed hands. Over $200,000 bonds were sold, indicating plenty of money is here for investment.

Plenty of dividends are scheduled for today affecting the big board in New York. Annual meetings of a dozen on the list.

Warner Bros. pictures earned $2.29 on the floor during the year ending March 31.

Car loadings the first week in May totaled 981,711, breaking all 1925 records, according to E. F. Hutton & Co., market wire.

Marco H. Hellman returned yesterday from New York with predictions of prosperity for the southwest based on talks with big business men.

AID TO FARMERS

DES MOINES, Iowa, May 13.—A billion dollar export corporation to control grain prices is the goal of the National Conference of Farmers in session here today. By resolutions adopted in a rousing unanimity, hundreds of organizations in the grain belt states went on record this afternoon for Congressional enactment to enable the establishment and financing of a gigantic export body controlled by real "dirt farmers" which would insure farmers an average profit of not less than five per cent plus their cost of production.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, May 13.—Grains averaged about steady throughout a quiet session today and the close was some what higher. Wheat finished 1 1/2 @ 2 1/4c higher, corn closed 1/2 @ 2 1/4c up, and oats closed 3/4 @ 1 1/2c higher. Selling by some interests that brought the price recessions of Monday, brought a sagging in the wheat market shortly after the opening, but the swing was within a comparatively narrow range. Provisions closed lower.

FREIGHT SHIPMENTS

NEW YORK, May 13.—Freights—Ocean (steam), grain: Rates weak; tonnage supply fair. United Kingdom, 1s 6d @ 2s 3d per 450 lbs; Atlantic ports, 16c per 100 lbs; Mediterranean ports, 17 @ 21c per 100 lbs; Hamburg, 14c per 100 lbs; Rotterdam, 13c per 100 lbs. General cargo rates steady; tonnage supply ample.

METAL MARKET

Tokio Suburb In Ruins After $2,500,000 Fire

TOKIO, May 13.—Kumagaya, small city forty miles from Tokio, was in ruins today following a disastrous fire last night which destroyed 800 houses, causing a damage estimated at $2,500,000. There were no casualties.

Spanish Forces Take Riffians By Surprise

TETUAN, Morocco, May 13.—Spanish forces surprised an important Riffi convoy en route to Regala today, and, assisted by friendly native tribes, killed 1700 of the Riffs and dispersed the remainder of the convoy.

NEW YORK CLOSING

By W. S. COUSINS
For International News Service
NEW YORK, May 13.—Irregular price movements in the stock market today resulted from the liquidation of public utility and specialty stocks and accumulation of oil and industrial stocks. Standard Oil and the leading independent oil stocks reached new high levels for the current movement.

Motor and public utility stocks began the day with a weakened technical position, as a result of the almost uninterrupted advance in prices since the first of the month.

Higher operations for some of the important industrial concerns, continuation of low call money rates, favorable Washington dispatches relative to the prospect of income tax reduction legislation, and higher prices for gasoline in the eastern markets, were the principal factors affecting the market.

C. C. DIRECTORS URGE LOWERING OF TRACKS

Opposition to Subways as Means of Replacing Grade Crossings Heard at Meeting Held Yesterday

Voicing their opposition to any plan for tunneling under the Southern Pacific right-of-way at Los Feliz boulevard or other street crossings in order to effect a separation of grades, directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon urged depression of the tracks as the only logical solution of the grade-crossing problem in Glendale.

Directors intimated that the chamber would strenuously oppose carrying out of the Los Angeles County Grade Crossing commission's plan for passing Los Feliz boulevard under the Southern Pacific tracks. They sided with the City Planning commission's plan for Glendale and Los Angeles in standing for depression of the railroad right-of-way, so that main thoroughfares running east and west can bridge the tracks.

Objection to depression of the tracks on the grounds that it would cut industrial plants off without means of entering their property with spur tracks is groundless, Director Lyman Clark declared. Spur lines can likewise be depressed, permitting base-line loading which will save the industrial concerns considerable time and money, he said.

Glendale Boulevard
The grade crossing controversy was brought before the board by Director George B. Karr, who questioned whether Los Feliz or Glendale boulevard crossing should receive first attention at the hands of the State Railroad Commission, where the matter of grade separations in Glendale now rests. Mr. Karr expressed his belief that greater need for a grade separation existed at the Glendale boulevard crossing, particularly in view of the recent action to get new highway bridges over the Los Angeles river at Glendale boulevard and Hyperion way. Mr. Karr said the Chamber of Commerce was the first to suggest a grade separation at Glendale boulevard.

Immediate opposition to any single grade separating project that would call for depression of the roadway developed. Directors Ingledue, Clark and others voiced their disapproval of any such plan. Director Ingledue declared that depression of the Southern Pacific track meant full solution of Glendale's grade crossing problems for all time to come. The plan is supported by Gordon Whitnall and the Los Angeles and Glendale Planning commissions, he said, and no other should be accepted.

The board of directors deferred formal action on the grade crossing question upon recommendation of Mayor Harry G. MacBain, a member of the board, who said the City Council is scheduled to discuss the matter further at its meeting tomorrow.

MAYTAG WASHER FEATURES GIVEN

Outstanding Points Stressed
By Glendale Hardware
Co., Local Agents

There are nine outstanding features on Maytag washers, according to officials of the Glendale Hardware Co., 601 East Broadway, authorized Glendale agents for the Maytag washer. Demonstrations of these unique and unusual features are being given daily at the company's store.

The manufacturers of the Maytag washer claim it will wash faster, wash cleaner, has the largest hourly capacity, is the most compact washer made, has cast aluminum tub, easily adjusted to any height, clothes can be put in or taken out while machine is running, tub clears itself in thirty seconds, and has a metal swinging wringer.

They point to the fact that, with the cast aluminum tub, it will not warp, rust, rot, swell, split nor corrode. The wringer adjusts itself automatically for handkerchiefs or blankets, the manufacturers claim.

Master Gregg's Fifth

OIL PRODUCTION
SHREVEPORT, May 13.—Average daily oil production in Louisiana and Arkansas rose to 341,326 barrels. Forty-six new wells added 81,875 to initial production in the Smackover field. Oil men believe the peak of production in Smackover soon will be reached.

BREAK GROUND SOON FOR ATWATER CHURCH

Plans Completed for New Edifice and Financial Details Being Worked Out Rapidly, Pastor Reports

Ground for the new Catholic church in the Atwater district will be broken within two weeks, according to present plans of Father W. G. Murphy, pastor of the Atwater parish. Plans for the financing of the new church are well under way, Father Murphy said, and architectural work on the church edifice, to be one of the finest in the vicinity, is completed.

The contract for the construction of the church will be let shortly and ground will probably be broken within two weeks' time. The new church will be located on Brunswick avenue near Appleton, on property recently purchased by the Catholic Diocese of Los Angeles.

Underground Conduits

Construction of an underground conduit system that will eventually connect Atwater district telephones with the large Prospect office of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co., in Hollywood, has been started with excavating under way. The conduit system will extend from the Prospect office to Valleybrook road and Glendale boulevard with provisions for a further extension along Glendale boulevard as far as the Glendale city limits. Surveyors were at work yesterday and today establishing levels along the telephone company's right-of-way in the Atwater district.

Wardlaw Meeting Tonight

Supporters of Charles T. Wardlaw, candidate for City Council in the first district, will meet at the Atwater headquarters of Mr. Wardlaw in the Shugart building, Glendale boulevard and Garden avenue, tonight. The meeting was originally scheduled for tomorrow night, but was changed late yesterday following a conference between Mr. Wardlaw and P. E. Lipscomb.

Mr. Wardlaw made an inspection tour of the Atwater district yesterday afternoon, going over the sites of the proposed bridges at Glendale boulevard and Fletcher drive. Mr. Wardlaw expressed himself heartily in favor of the bridge project, stressing the needs for the new spans in the scheme for a major highway plan for the entire metropolitan area.

Shower For Bride-to-Be

In compliance to Miss Rosalind Gates, principal of Atwater school, whose marriage to Llewellyn Overholt, Los Angeles attorney, will take place Monday, June 29, at 8:30 o'clock, at Wilshire Presbyterian church, members of the Atwater Parent-Teacher association gave a surprise shower yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. V. Bacon, 3302 Revere avenue.

A mock wedding ceremony created merriment and afforded entertainment for the afternoon. Those taking part in the entertainment were: Mrs. E. V. Bacon, as father; Miss Grace Haskell, bride; Mrs. Werner, groom; Mrs. King, best man; Mrs. Holcomb, preacher; Mrs. Paucher, maid of honor; Mrs. Carlson, matron of honor; Mrs. Ibert, bridesmaid; Mrs. Rainey, bridesmaid; Mrs. Slocum, ring bearer; Mrs. Dakan, flower girl; Mrs. Vaughan, hostess; Mrs. Peterman and Mrs. Chapman represented Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt from Kansas; Mrs. Henderson, Rudy Vaseline; Mrs. Morrow, Swedish young man; Mrs. Martin, Jew; Mrs. Stout, policeman; Mrs. Vantine, rich relative; Mrs. Hamill and Mrs. Brown, ushers; Mrs. Vanderwood and Mrs. Gardner, train bearers; Mrs. Gillett, Miss Vamp of 1911; Mrs. Pennock, Henry Henpeck, Mrs. Actker, Mrs. Henry Henpeck, and the two uninvited guests were Llewellyn Overholt and Mr. Dakan, as Mrs. Butinsky and her cousin.

After the mock wedding ceremony, Miss Gates gave a talk in appreciation of the party and during this time Mrs. E. V. Bacon, president of Atwater Parent-Teacher association, presented her on behalf of the association, with a tea set. Miss Gates was recipient of numerous other gifts from association members. The party was attended by 100 persons, including teachers of Atwater school, Parent-Teacher association members and guests. Refreshments were served by a committee in charge of Mrs. Holcomb after the program. Group pictures of the party were taken.

AT LA CRESCENTA

LA CRESCENTA, May 13.—Mrs. A. E. Sullivan, chairman of the ways and means committee of the Crescenta Valley Women's club, announces plans for the Jarman concert are virtually completed and that members of the club and their friends are promised an especial treat as two artists of note will take part—Mrs. Frederick Crowe, president of the Pacific Musical society, concert pianist, and Miss Margaret Jarman, mezzo soprano.

Miss Jarman has been enthusiastically received by the Women's clubs of Fresno, Los Angeles, Tulare, Riverside and San Diego, also has sung in grand opera in the leading cities of Europe and America. Tickets will be nominally priced, and proceeds will go to the building fund. The date of the concert will be announced later.

All members of the Episcopal Guild of St. Luke's of the Mountains are invited to the guild session to be held on Friday, May 29, at the Pro-Cathedral when with nine other guilds will represent the missions of the diocese of Los Angeles. After the business meeting members will serve luncheon. Bishop Johnson and Bishop Stevens will be guests.

Verdugo Hills post, No. 28, of American Legion has issued a call to all interested citizens to come to the new post home next Sunday and help with the work of building. Women of the post auxiliary will be on hand to serve homemade "eats."

Bring your hammer and saw and your neighbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Park Crane of Hollywood, have moved into their new home on Long View.

Mrs. Frank Ellis of Long View, is spending the week in San Diego.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jarman of Los Angeles, have completed their bungalow on Long View and are planning to spend much of their time in the valley.

The Tuesday Afternoon club of Highway Highlands met yesterday afternoon in the clubrooms. Regular committees submitted reports, after which Mrs. Blanche Hopkins led in the community sing, a feature of these meetings.

Mrs. R. Q. MacDonald, president of the club, presided and accompanied for the singing. A number of out-of-town guests were present. Punch and wafers were served by Mrs. Emory Jones and Mrs. Roy Johnson, hostesses.

The music section of the Crescenta Valley Women's club held a rehearsal last night in preparation for the united choral concert to be held by the choir of the Women's club in the Philharmonic auditorium, Los Angeles. Hugh Kirk Hoffer will lead the assembled choruses.

The local drive for the endowment fund for disabled soldiers and war orphans will begin in earnest June 1. Commander A. E. Baron of the local post, has appointed Dr. Montague Cleeves chairman of the drive. Dr. Cleeves also is on the national committee. Proceeds of the drive will go to veterans and orphans exclusively. La Crescenta valley quota is $1000 and the boys have four days to raise it. They ask you to give. Any amount will be welcome.
